Centennial Events To Mark July 4-5 In Upper Sandusky

UPPER SANDUSKY June 23—Plans for the Upper Sandusky centennial celebration were nearing completion today with times and places set for the two-day program Sunday and Monday July 4 and 5

Committees of members of the Business and Professional Women's club have contacted organizations who will appear in the big parade to start at 2 p m July 5 Floats are being prepared by clubs and other groups to compete for cash prizes

One section of the parade will be devoted to old automobiles and antique farm implements Bands listed included the famed Eagles marching band from Marion in addition to those from Wyandot county A concert after the parade will be given by the Upper Sandusky High school band.

Contests for the children at the fairground will fill the early evening hours A special holiday show by the Hoosier Cornhuskers will start at 8 p m. The final event will be a display of fireworks

Sunday's activities will start with a homecoming program at all churches. The afternoon schedule at Harrison Smith park will feature Edwin C Zapp of Columbus, director of the Ohio State museum, as a guest speaker

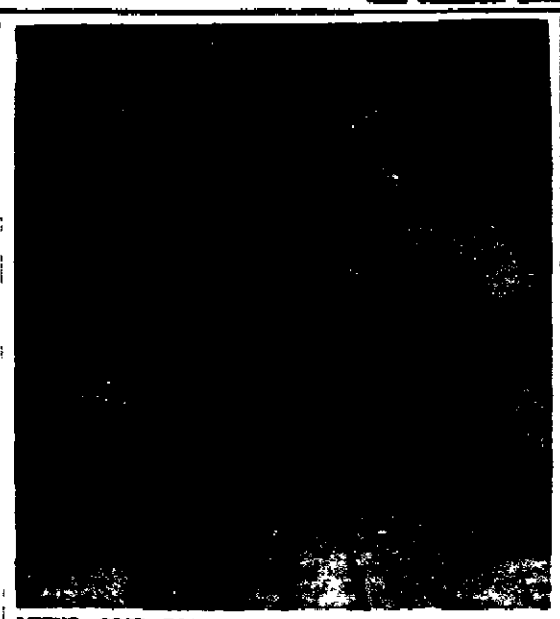

Displays of all types of historical relics and pioneer items will be placed in the show windows of business places promoting the centennial celebration and many old photos of past events will be on display with the antique articles.

CHILDREN'S PARTY CLOSES PROSPECT CIRCLE SEASON

PROSPECT, June 23 — A children's party at the school closed the season last week for the Prospect circle of the Child Conservation league. Winners of contests at the party were Barbara and Wahneta McNeal, Peggy Moser, Tommy Isler and George Moser.

Mrs Robert Sechrist, the new president, named as committee members and chairwomen the following Mrs. Robert Emery, Mrs. James Lauer, Mrs. Rex Rodgers; Mrs. Carl Moser, Mrs Dale Bachelder, Mrs Lester Milligan, Mrs. Arthur Isler and Mrs. Robert Wilcox; Mrs Weldon McNeal, Mrs. Franklin Gerfen, Mrs. Carl Russell and Mrs. Donald Foos; Mrs Ray Stiffler, and Mrs. John Gray Mrs Fred Isler, Mrs. Paul me King and Mrs James Middlemiss; Mrs. Robert Gray, Mrs. Archie Cochran and Mrs Archie Myers, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. Dale Fields and Mrs John Isler; Mrs Donald Hickman and Mrs Robert Isler, Mrs Max Thibaut, Mrs. Darius Moyer, Mrs Paul E Lauer, Mrs Harold Smith, Mrs. Darrell Denman and Mrs. Paul Waddell

ASK GALION MAYOR TO FILL VACANCIES

Special to The Star

GALION, June 23—City council Tuesday night in an adjourned meeting at the request from lobbyists made a motion to notify Mayor H H Hartmann that council wishes him to fill three vacancies on the City hospital board The mayor was asked to make the appointments in order to pave the way for building an addition to City hospital It was pointed out that the terms of three hospital board commissioners had expired, and that no appointments had been made since 1944. The hospital board is comprised of five members with the mayor as ex-officio member The former mayor had not filled expiring terms on the board in 1944, 1945 and 1946

Two committees of the BPW club, the public affairs and the legislative committee, are working with doctors and representatives of the city government to push the building of the wing to the hospital.

The adjourned meeting was held also to clear the way for acquisition of lots adjacent to the East Side park and two lots for the extension of Center street. Service-Safety Director John F. Porter reported that the county prosecutor Leo J. Scanlon at the request of Mayor H. H. Hartmann said he would remove the lots from the list and they would not be put up for sale on June 29 as advertised. This will make it possible for council to condemn the lots in order to secure them as city property.

Mission Conference Will Close Tonight

The closing service of a three-day missionary conference at the Maranatha Bible church will be held at 7.30 tonight. Present for the conference here are missionaries from West Africa and Martinique Tonight, Rev Ernest Finkenbiner of Bellefontaine, deputation secretary of Christian Missions, Inc., organization sponsoring the conference, will give a Bible exposition.

Colored pictures of the recently established mission work on the island of Martinique will be shown, and Mrs. Otto Bechtel, missionary to West Africa, will relate experiences of conversion of native peoples to Christianity, and she will tell of hardships of missionary life in the desert area where she and her husband are serving.

A special feature tonight will be presentation of donations of articles and equipment needed by missionaries who are scheduled to leave for fields of service in the near future. On display during the conference have been various souvenirs and curios brought from the foreign countries.

Good attendance and interest has prevailed throughout the meeting, Rev. Earl Holliday, pastor, stated

Church Conference Takes Up Resolutions

By The Associated Press

OBERLIN, June 23—Their differences on a merger proposal successfully compromised, 2,688 delegates to the general council of the Congregational Christian churches turned today to reports and resolutions.

A nearly unanimous approval yesterday of a basis for union with the Evangelical and Reformed church removed from the sessions sharp tension and emotional strain which marked the meeting since it opened last Thursday.

The merger was the major matter on the council's eight-day program, and anxiety of delegates for its success had been reflected not only in the heated debate of three morning sessions but in off-the-floor caucuses and discussions that lasted far into the night

Delegates were confident that by additional work they could boost from 65 5 to 75 per cent the favorable vote of individual churches on the basis of union which the Evangelical and Reformed church has approved by a majority of more than 90 per cent They fixed next Jan. 1 as a deadline for the task.

OBERLIN, June 23—The Congregational Christian churches' board of home missions, meeting here in joint biennial session with the denomination's general council, today elected Rev William Elbert McCormack of Springfield, Mass., as president.

BOND ISSUE AUTHORIZED

BUCYRUS — Because bids received for construction of a new city filtration-softening plant were far in excess of the estimated cost of the improvement, council has authorized a $60,000 bond issue Estimate of the cost of the equipment was $387,000, and the lowest of the four bids now under consideration was $463,000

SCHOOL REPAIRS BID ACCEPTED IN GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, June 23 — Contracts for repair work to schools of the city were awarded at a special meeting of the Galion board of education this week, and action taken authorizing the purchase of property adjoining the south school ground

The Harry Woodland and company of Mansfield was awarded a contract for their combination bid to construct a new roof on the Junior High school and a new roof on the Senior High school building at $12,145

The board awarded a contract to the Fred Kruger company of Galion to lay a bituminous pavement on the play areas at two school buildings at a cost of $6,477, and another contract to the Jensen Industries of Canton for $1,178 for a cyclorama and new window drapes for the Senior High auditorium.

Property to be purchased is a home of Walter Hemenauer and an additional lot from Mrs Theodore Oelsmidter Thus will allow a Boston entrance to the proposed new elementary school building on the site where the South School now stands It is estimated that the property can be purchased for $10,000

COLLEGE ELECTS ACTING PRESIDENT

Husband of Former Marion Woman Chosen.

Dr Albert Riemenschneider of Berea organist and authority on music of Johann Sebastian Bach, and husband of a former Marion resident, has been elected acting president of Baldwin-Wallace college Mrs Riemenschneider is the former Miss Elizabeth Schrader, daughter of Mrs. August R. Schrader of 463 East Center street.

Dr Riemenschneider will take over the presidential chair July 15. He was born in Berea August. 31, 1878, and won a bachelor of arts degree from Baldwin-Wallace in 1899 Later he studied in Paris, spending a year and five summers in the French capital and in Vienna.

He became interested in music as a boy and began his studies with his father, Dr Karl Riemenschneider, who was president of German-Wallace college, which is what the present institution was called years ago His father headed the school for nearly 50 years.

Dr Riemenschneider retired a year ago after 50 years as director of the conservatory of music at Baldwin-Wallace college

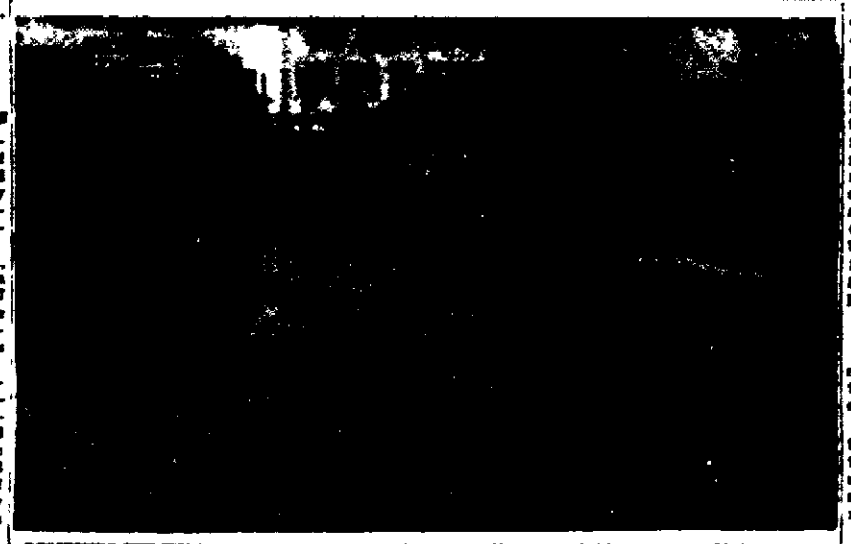

Bids Are Opened On Area Highway Projects

Paving bids on Hardin, Richland and Ashland county road projects were among those opened Tuesday by the state highway department in a 46 project program the Associated Press reported from Columbus

The Churchill Construction Co., of Lima was low on a Hardin county project calling for 2.617 miles of paving on SR-69 in the village of Ada. They bid $40,-180.90 Engineers estimate was $40,200

A five part project in Ashland and Richland counties calling for 3.63 miles paving on SR-302, 4.32 miles on SR-96, 3.86 miles on SR-580 4.79 miles on SR-603 and 3.19 miles on SR-603 found the Lester Baker Co., of St. Joe Ind low bidder. They bid $20,260 against the engineer's estimate of $22,630

The Whitaker-Merrill Co., of Columbus was low on two guard rail erection projects, one in Ashland, Huron, Medina, Richland and Wayne counties and the other in Ashland Crawford, Erie Huron, Medina Richland, and Wayne counties Their bid on the former was $9,171 against an estimate of $9,5000 while on the latter they bid $7,490 against the estimate of $8,820

COMBINES CUT WIDE SWATH IN WHEAT FIELD. Three combines move down field, cutting a combined 36-foot swath, as they harvest a wheat field on the Lewis Bolding farm near Medicine Lodge, Kan. The three machines are owned by Bob Smith and Mel Potter of Arnold, Neb. who started wheat harvest in Texas last month and are moving north with the harvest season They will cut their own 1,500 acres of wheat in Nebraska on the way north and end the season in North Dakota. This field was going 30 bushels an acre when this picture was made.

Your Good Health

By DR. SHERMAN M. BUNDESEN

What Your Eyes Tell a Doctor

POETICALLY described as windows of the soul the eyes are also peepholes through which the doctor can view the general health of his patient particularly as it relates to the condition of blood vessels This is because the veins and arteries in the retina or back part of the eyeball can be seen by looking into the eye with an instrument known as the ophthalmoscope. Their condition —good or bad—reflects that of the entire system.

There are a number of conditions which manifest themselves by bleeding into the retina When this bleeding is from the arteries, it usually signifies hardening of the arteries and, in more than half these cases, high blood pressure as well. Hemorrhage from the veins has another meaning, since this type of bleeding is more often the result of some mechanical or inflammatory blocking of the veins

Acute kidney inflammation such as that which occurs in Bright's disease may also cause bleeding into the retina, but, in these cases, white, wooly patches appear.

In diabetes, changes in the retina also occur which resemble those due to hardened arteries, but in reality, the difficulties are due to damage to the veins The changes produced are typical and are easily recognized by direct examination.

In pernicious anemia, the tiny veins in the retina are broad, flat, and pale and the arteries appear unnaturally small

The retina is also injured by all types of leukemia, a disorder in which there is an increase in the number of white cells in the blood A layer of white cells collects along the blood vessel walls The blood vessels are dilated or enlarged, and the veins also increase in size.

Of course, all of these changes in the retina will interfere to some extent with the eyesight. It is important, when difficulties in the vision develop, that a careful examination of the retina be made by an eye specialist. He is familiar with the changes produced by the various conditions and such examinations will not only aid in diagnosing the eye trouble but may give some important information concerning general disorders which may be present.

Questions and Answers

S. P.: My feet perspire very much no matter how much I bathe them. What can I do for this embarrassing condition?

Answer: Excessive perspiration of the feet is sometimes due to wearing the wrong type of socks and shoes. Rubber- soled shoes are objectionable in this respect.

The use of a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride in distilled second or third day, will remedy water, dabbed on the feet every the condition.

ATTENDANCE 2,071 AT 4 PLAYGROUNDS

Marion Summer Recreational Program Under Way.

The Marion city recreation program is off to a good start with 2071 persons attending the four parks last week Russell C Dunlap, playground director, announced today

Organized games are available for small children. Mr Dunlap emphasized, however that equipment for horse shoes, soft ball and many other games is issued to adults also

McKinley and Lincoln parks are stressing tennis this week The courts are in fair condition and equipment is furnished. Beginners will have an opportunity to learn tennis

Glenwood and Forest Lawn playgrounds are concentrating on volley ball, soft ball, and paddle tennis.

The attendance figures for June 14-18 are

McKinley park, Marion Chase, supervisor, 1072

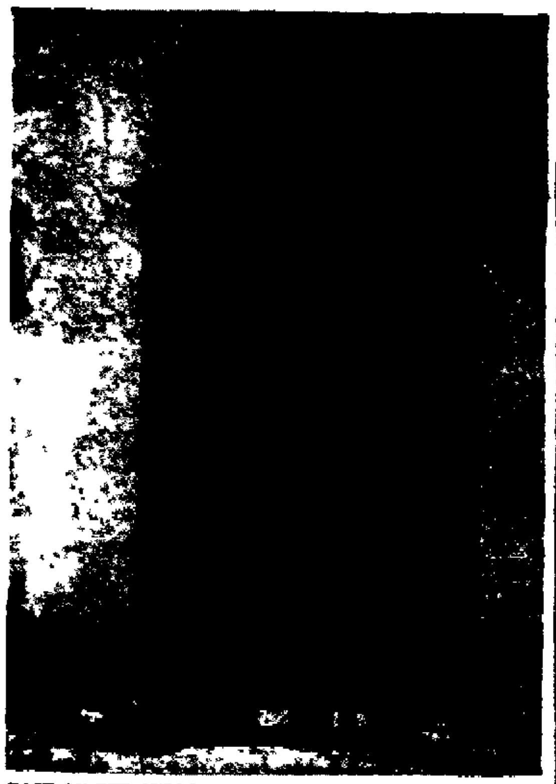

Lincoln park, Bill Wiedeman, supervisor 281,

Forest Lawn playground, Donna Roby, supervisor 268,

Glenwood playground, Mr Dunlap supervisor — 450

Organizations or families having picnics at the parks are invited to use recreational equipment The supervisors are eager to make each picnic a success, Mr Dunlap said

The program runs from Monday through Friday each week until schools starts.

EASY ON THE CURVES, FELLOWS. At a dizzy speed of seven miles in 10 days, this 66-foot high grain elevator moves down the road from Millerton, Neb., to Garrison, in east-central Nebraska. SHOVEL CO. USING NEW DIESEL ENGINES

Replace Steam Locomotives; "Busby" Last To Retire.

One of the major phases of a rehabilitation project which has been under way at the Marion Power Shovel Co plant for the last two years has been the putting into operation of a fleet of three diesel electric-powered locomotives An article telling of that improvement and pictures of the three new locomotives are featured in the June issue of the employe paper "The Marion Scoop," published monthly by and for the employes of the Marion Power Shovel Co.

The three new locomotives give the company three mediums of power for all transportation of material and equipment The new equipment includes a G-E 45-ton diesel-electric locomotive, a 25-ton G-E diesel-electric and a 20-ton G-E storage battery locomotive

To make way for the new fleet of diesel and electric powered locomotives now handling the transportation in the company yards and plant the old steam powered locomotive, "Busby" is to be scrapped Old "Busby" was bought by the Marion Power Shovel Co. in 1910 from Vulcan Iron Works, West Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and has traveled the yard tracks here for several hundred thousand miles in the past 38 years. "Busby" has been endeared to company employes who had honored it with the name of a former general superintendent, the late Busby Sweney

Advantages of the diesels over the old-type steam locomotives include high availability, versatile switching and increased units of operation

The new 45-tonner handles intra-plant switching of raw materials and heavy finished products and switches incoming and outgoing freight cars to and from the connecting main line railroads. Cleanliness and safety are features of the new engines and there are no boilers or fire-boxes to maintain.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

AS I watched my small daughter's face set itself into pathetic resignation, I recalled with twitching lips a commentary her father often makes upon her

"Faith knows when she's up against a stone wall" he says "She'll explore to find out if there's a way over it, under it, or around it, but when she finally sees there's no way except to butt her head through it, she decides to save her dome

She evidently had that realization as I finished speaking, for she folded her hands together, and looked squarely at me

"I solemnly promise" she said, as if she were taking an oath of office, "that I will listen carefully, and won't interrupt you again"

"That's my good girl," I said, smiling at her "Now, in the first place, you may be right, or you may be wrong in your theory as to the 'hush-hush' message Daddy brought Granddad for Mr 'K.' But there is no way we can find out unless Granddad chooses to tell us"

"That will be never," she said despondently

"I don't think it will be that long," I told her, smiling, "but we can't shorten the time a single minute by thinking about it. And under no circumstances, must we speak of this again Granddad would be very angry if he knew that we were talking about his affairs."

Her face crumbled into tears.

"Oh, Oh!" she wailed "I just couldn't have Granddad angry at me. I never, never saw him even the leastest bit angry at me"

I made the private comment that she probably never would see what she was fearing, but I could not pass up so good an opportunity for ramming my argument home

"Then you never, never must do anything which would make him angry," I said. "But, I don't think you need to worry about this especial thing."

"Why?" she asked, with hope shining through her tears.

"Because he doesn't know that you are asking questions about it, and, as nobody else heard you, we don't need to tell him. But I want you to promise me now, that you will not speak of this 'hush-hush' message from Mr. 'K.' again, even to me, until I give you permission. Will you promise?"

"Scout honor cross my heart and hope to die," she said fervently, with vigorous and appropriate gestures

"Thank you," I said, then quickly added as I heard the lift stop outside, "Dry your eyes now, for I hear Daddy coming You may run into the bathroom and wash your face, if you wish."

She didn't wait to answer me, but rushed into the bathroom as if she were being hotly pursued I went to the door to answer Dicky's knock, and whispered a caution to him as he came through the door

"Pay no attention to Faith's face when you see her," I whispered "She's been crying, but she's all right now"

"Discipline, necessary, or unnecessary, I suppose" he said, with a teasing grin at me

"Most necessary," I whispered back. "Here she comes!"

"I'll play up," he promised prisonfashion as Faith came slowly into the room

The American Ideal

THE REPUBLICAN platform prepared by the conventions committee on resolutions is a concise statement of American ideals. It requires about 15 minutes to read a fine example of the short platform pattern that has been popular since the Democratic party first tried it in 1932.

The 1932 platform of the Democrats was one of the best ever adopted by a party convention. Unfortunately, the junta that was swept into power by the election landslide that year decided it didn't need a platform and proceeded systematically to abandon party principles in favor of what later came to be spoken of as a bloodless revolution.

That is the pitfall which has been fallen into so often that party platforms are in disrepute. But as is true of many things in politics, not all the disrepute is deserved. A platform has a higher function in election years than to attract voters. It is intended, also, to guide spokesmen of the party.

There are some statements in the Republican platform which will be displeasing to some Republicans. But its adoption will bind them to its text. For example, it favors the reciprocal trade principle, federal aid for housing under certain circumstances and a bipartisan foreign policy, all of which have been challenged by some Republicans in the 80th congress.

It will be interesting to see how the Democrats, when they frame a platform, can differ from the Republicans' platform in any important detail without admitting that their party is the prisoner of prejudices and fallacies that threaten to destroy the American ideal.

Keynote for All Parties

POLITICAL conventions being as they are, Herbert Hoover's thoughtful address to the Republican delegates Tuesday night probably lacked the expected fire and thunder.

It was no match for the keynote oratory of Governor Green, whose job was to stir up enthusiasm. Mr. Hoover aimed, rather, to stimulate sober thinking, not an easy thing to do in the hurly-burly atmosphere of a convention.

He warned the delegates of the danger of moral compromises, platitudes, narrow partisanship, yielding to pressure blocs and weak leadership. The Republican party must make itself worthy of the victory in its grasp, he said.

Its enemy—the national enemy—is collectivism, the blight that threatens to destroy the right of all men to freedom. The blight has been spreading into the United States, the last strong citadel of human rights. The crisis in American life, Mr. Hoover believes, is the danger that collectivism may not be stopped here in time. "Only as long as the United States is free and strong will human liberty survive in a world frustrated and devastated by two wars," he told the Republican convention. "Today the American people have reached a historic stage which has come to a few strong nations in their ability to contribute to moral leadership in the world. Few such nations have come upon that task with so few liabilities. We have faced all the world in friendship, with compassion, with a genuine love and helpfulness for our fellow men. In war, in peace, in disaster, we have aided those whom we believed to be in the right and to require our aid. At the end of wars, we have aided foe as well as ally; and in each instance, even the children of those who would do us hurt. We have hated war, we have loved peace."

The Republican party is blessed with many men who could lead the fight against collectivism as chief executive of the United States—many men who have been leading the fight against it in congress—and one man, Herbert Hoover, who has been leading it tirelessly and ably as a private citizen. He has earned the gratitude of all Americans who cherish freedom.

Defining Human Rights

A UNITED NATIONS commission has brought forth an international declaration of human rights, a 28-article statement over which delegates labored for three weeks.

Because the Russian bloc was represented on the commission, there were long arguments over what constitutes human rights. The Communists pressed for emphasis on state-given services such as socialized medicine, pensions and state housing. The others stood for the dignity of the individual and individual rights. A compromise was effected which "embodies a good deal of good sound American tradition and law," according to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the American delegate.

A definition of human rights is one on which Russian and American delegates can agree on it. But if they ever agreed on the practical application of that definition, it would be the story of the century.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

There's Victory in the Air at GOP Convention.

THIS Republican convention of 1948 in Philadelphia is different from the 1940 and the 1944 conventions in atmosphere and in the excitement of the delegates and their friends. In 1940, right here in the same hotels, with many of the current candidates also running then, with the same or similar crowds on the streets, everything seemed so synthetic—and it was. The Willkie blitz was an organized stage-managed demonstration of New York mastering the country—and it failed.

This then is the difference in atmosphere, today and then. This convention is attuned to success. More and more the phrase is heard: "A nomination is equal to election." That of course may not be a true appraisal, much can happen between June and November to the country, the world and even to the candidates. But the sureness of election, the certainty that anybody can beat Truman is in the air and it affects everyone's thinking here.

SOKOLSKY

And that also is one reason why delegates are still holding out. It is not usual for the Monday of convention week to present so uncertain a picture. Even the candidates do not know, for sure, where they stand. The Dewey atmosphere is one of well-managed sureness; the Taft atmosphere is one of rough and tumble sureness. And this sense of sureness is no fake, it is not a front for public consumption. Somehow, each of the principal contenders, at the very beginning of the convention, figures that he is in and is only working to improve his situation.

1944 Picture Different

Obviously something is wrong with someone's figures because the arithmetic does not add up, but we are not dealing at this moment with figures but with atmosphere.

In 1944, the picture was different. The principal contenders were Tom Dewey and John Bricker, and Dewey had it from the start. But 1944 was not an enthusiastic convention. The atmosphere of inevitability prevailed, namely, that no one could beat Franklin D. Roosevelt and that one would be president as long as he lived. No one knew then that he would not finish out the term.

Furthermore, the country was at war and the delegates sensed that the two principal issues facing the nation, the conduct of the war and the foreign policy would not be discussed in the campaign. The convention speeches in 1944 were on the whole dull and meaningless with a nation at war, and the convention itself was opened with left-wing music giving the impression of inspired stupidity. Nineteen forty-four was a dull convention with no heart in it.

Victory in Air

This year is very different because eventual victory is in the air. Taft and Dewey each is experiencing his third candidacy for the presidential nomination. Willkie edged them both out in 1940 and Taft or Dewey, one or the other might have made the grade then had they listened to friends and party leaders. The proposal was a Taft and Dewey ticket or a Dewey and Taft ticket, but neither would be a vice president—and so Willkie's blitz went over and that curiously meaningless round of radio snortings and shouting was called a political campaign.

This year, Taft and Dewey are equally obdurate. Neither will be vice president. The Taft-Dewey or Dewey-Taft ticket could be nominated on the first ballot with such enthusiasm as a Republican convention never witnessed before. But that will not happen, neither Bob Taft nor Tom Dewey wants to be vice president, neither wants to be lucky or unlucky like Harry Truman; neither wants the dull tiresome inactivity of waiting for someone to become incapacitated or die. Both are too young, too aggressive, too fighting for throttlebottom's job.

So we shall witness a battle and a failure to compromise. The third wheels are becoming plentiful: Stassen, Vandenberg, Bricker, Warren and every governor of every state. Of these Warren of California seems to be the center of most rumors but the least reality. Vandenberg's buttons are beginning to appear and no one has buttons printed who is not a candidate. And Stassen is running for vice president and a very handsome one he will be, too.

The Keynote Speech

By Raymond Moley

PHILADELPHIA

GOVERNOR DWIGHT GREEN'S definition of the objectives of government — character, influence, happiness—in his keynote speech was, as he said based on the philosophy of "a great American spiritual leader." That leader was Henry Churchill King, a professor of philosophy and president of Oberlin college for many years. He was truly a great leader, as a whole generation of Oberlin students came to know. The book in which his basic ethical principles were best portrayed was "Rational Living," a volume widely known in educational circles 40 years ago.

MOLEY

In his lifetime, King, a Congregational minister, lectured throughout the country. He was a man of intense moral fervor. This writer, then a student at Oberlin, can well remember King's notable baccalaureate sermons in the period of the first World war. King argued with a singular earnestness for a better peace and for world influence on the part of the United States.

Notables on School Record

It is of interest to note that Governor Green's alma mater, the University of Illinois, gave King an honorary degree and that the present chancellor of the University of Chicago, R. M. Hutchins, was a student at Oberlin. The elder Hutchins was a colleague of King on the faculty at Oberlin.

Green's adaptation of King's principles in terms of the nation, the government and the party was conceived on the basis of the insistent demands of contemporary life as well as sound political science. The selection of public "happiness" as a basic objective of government is in the best classic tradition. Jefferson pointed it up in the Declaration of Independence as "the pursuit of happiness." Nearly a hundred years before, John Locke, in justifying the English revolution of 1688, had stated the citizen's rights as life, liberty and property. Jefferson, following Aristotle, substituted "happiness" for "property."

Foreign Policy Statement

The foreign affairs section of Green's speech is an expression of foreign policy designed to unite the Midwestern and Eastern wings of the party. It is absurd to say, as some internationalists are saying, that there is a real rift in the party on foreign affairs. The fact is that Green's statement meets the full approval of Dewey and of John Foster Dulles, who is a major figure in the bi-partisan activities of the past four years. The gap, if there has been a gap, has been bridged, and Green's statement is the middle ground.

Green, because of his speech, and the Illinois delegation, because of its size and mobility, may be a tremendous factor in the balloting. It would not be strange to see a Dewey-Green ticket emerge. There is both logic and practical politics in the combination. Taft is well liked in Illinois but the leaders in Chicago believe the county ticket would be more adequately helped by Dewey—and especially by a Dewey-Green combination.

How Price Index Is Figured

200 Items in 18 Cities Are Covered in Survey.

FOOD is the No. 1 factor in the cost of living index. But it's only one of about 200 items considered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Even such things as nylon hose haircuts and movie tickets figure in it.

In addition to food, major items include rent, fuel, clothing, household furnishings, transportation and medical service.

The cost of living index issued monthly by the BLS since 1913, took on new importance when General Motors and the United Automobile Workers agreed on a new contract hitched to it.

If the index—officially the consumers' price index for moderate-income families in large cities—goes up sharply, General Motors' 225,000 U. A. W. members get more pay. A sharp drop means less money for them.

Each month the bureau compiles cost of living figures for 10 cities—Birmingham, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Twenty-four other major cities are in a "pool" from which eight are taken each month on rotation. Thus a total of 18 cities are included in each report.

To compile the report, BLS uses 30 full-time checkers and 125 on a part-time basis.

For purposes of the index 1935-39 is taken as norma or 100. It's a long long way from normal now. For April it stood at 169.3—almost 70 percent above prewar.

During the war the BLS called its monthly price measurement the cost of living index, but unions and some economists objected. They said quality of goods got worse and other factors entered the picture so the index was not really a measurement of the cost of living. The bureau in 1945 decided to call it the consumers' price index instead.

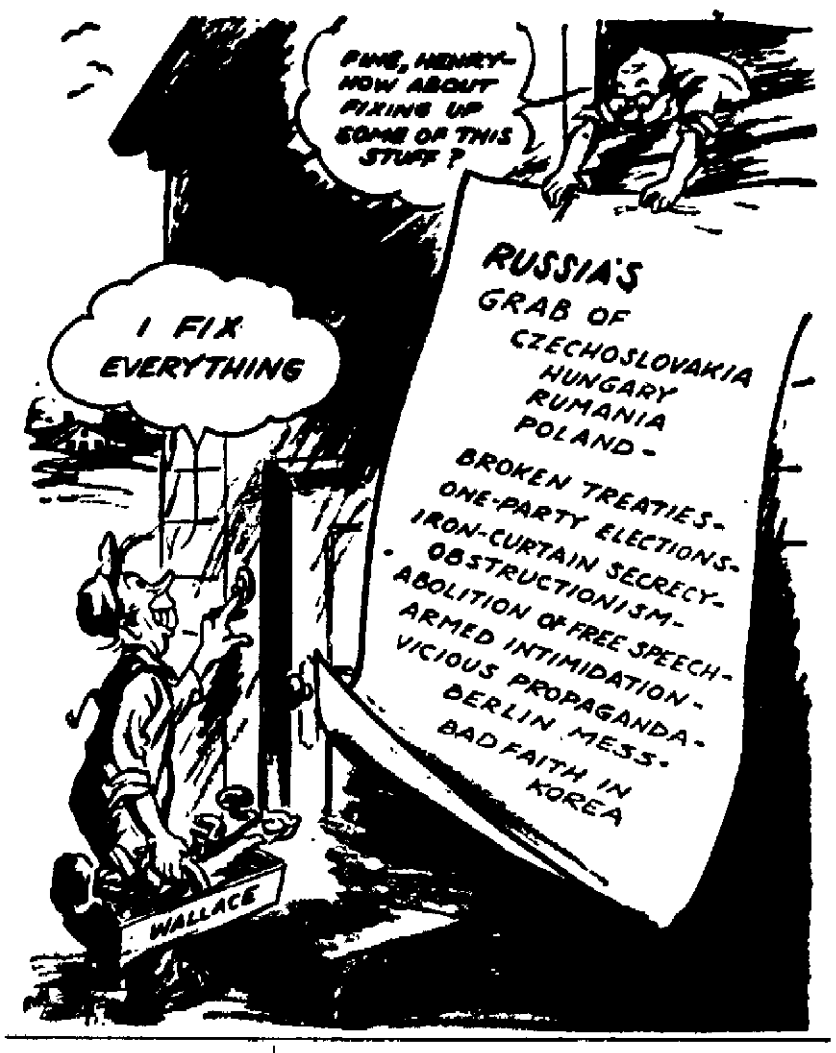

The BLS estimates that 8,000,000 workers are covered by contracts which use the index.

The Handy Man

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, June 23, 1938.

The city board of education passed legislation leading to placing the question of a bond issue for the school district's 55 per cent of the cost of a $750,000 high school building, on the ballot for the Aug. 9 primaries and at a meeting of city council a proposal for construction of a $295,000 city hall was outlined and referred to committees for study. Backers of the city hall movement asked council to take steps which the school board had already taken. Both were PWA projects.

Members of city and rural Evangelical churches were in attendance at a four-day meeting of the Women's Missionary Societies of the Ohio Conference of the Evangelical church which opened in Columbus. Mrs. C. R. Beerbower of Marion was president of the conference. From Calvary were Miss Eva Barringer, Mrs. Eldred Crizer, Miss Virginia Rutherford, Miss Jeannette Bender and Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Heininger. Attending from Salem rural were Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Ramey, Mrs. Harley Ault and Miss Marguerite Loyer.

The adjoining homes of Mrs. Homer Waddell and Mrs. J. E. Oliphant on South Vine street was the scene of a picnic held by Circle No. 7, of the Ladies' Aid society of Epworth M. E. church.

Joseph A. Morrison and Lloyd Bowersock were named delegates and Thomas L. Hurley and Clarence Ochsenhein alternates to the national encampment to be held at Columbus in August, at a meeting of Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Children's Home softball team defeated the NYA team by a score of 4-2, at the Home diamond. Bender held the NYA team to scattered hits and struck out nine of their batters.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 23, 1928.

Announcement was made that the Hocking Valley railroad had arranged to install its own water system here at a cost of approximately $250,000. Three large wells were to be sunk, a like number of storage tanks erected and a water softening system installed. The plant was also to be used by the Erie railroad which had discontinued the service of the Marion Water Co.

Mrs. Joseph J. Mull, 28, of Olney avenue, died at the City hospital.

Miss Ruth Brown of Jefferson street went to Chicago to spend the summer with her sister, Miss Jessie Brown.

Announcement was made that Francis Bacon, former athletic director at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and manager of the Marion Eagles baseball team, would act as assistant football coach at Ohio Wesleyan university in the fall.

Candidacy of Al Smith for the Democratic presidential nomination had gained such strength that delegates assembling for the national convention in Houston, Texas, regarded his selection as assured.

W. E. Selanders of LaRue was elected president and J. E. Whaley of North Prospect street secretary-treasurer, in the semi-annual meeting of the Marion County Rural Carriers association at the Marion postoffice.

Miss Martha Tschanen was chosen as queen when members of Bethel No. 2 of Job's Daughters held their semi-annual election.

Simplicity of manner is the last attainment. Men are very long afraid of being natural, from the dread of being taken for ordinary.—Jeffrey.

Cutting Phrases Not Enough

By Walter Lippmann

PHILADELPHIA— On Monday and Tuesday the principal orators were the men whose leadership and management of the party permitted, indeed enabled the Democrats to govern the country for 16 years and to elect Roosevelt four times.

Nevertheless, Mr. Reece, Gov. Green, ex-president Hoover and Mr. Martin appeared to be entirely unconscious of the fact that they, and what they have been saying and doing, played any part in giving the Democrats the power to do all the things they complain about. Never did they admit that they had even been wrong, less than wise, less than the only true defenders of the faith, or that one trace of humility or magnanimity could be allowed to mitigate their absolute self-righteousness.

It is quite impossible, of course, to examine what they said since none of them said anything which could, even by courtesy, be called a statement of policy. Senator Baldwin of Connecticut summed up this preliminary oratorical phrase very neatly by remarking dryly that what the American people "seek of us is more than a rehash of warmed-over diatribe."

For that, manifestly, it is necessary that the control of the party should pass into other hands. It is the crucial issue of the convention. The issue is whether the party control is to remain with Messrs. Reece, Martin, Green and the intellectual leadership with Mr. Hoover, or is to be taken over by the new men.

The outcome is still in doubt. But the tentative draft of the platform is a favorable omen. It is clear that the authors of this draft — among them Senator Lodge, Senator Ives and Senator Baldwin—are new men who belong to a different historical epoch than that of the orators.

The draft platform is the work of men who had little or nothing to do with the Republicanism which led up to Roosevelt and was so utterly incapable of offering effective opposition to him.

If the new men can write the platform, perhaps they can also nominate candidates who think as they do, and have made no stultifying bargains. If that happens, there is a fair prospect that the Republican party will become an adequate instrument of government, having been reformed and reconstructed from within.

The draft platform is not, and of course, should not be, a program of measures. No such program can be written now.

To attempt it would merely tie the hands of the incoming president.

It is, however, a statement of generalities, not merely of slogans and catchwords, to which enlightened and responsible conservatives could be faithful. The inner intention is best disclosed by the insertion of a rather unusual quotation of the tenor of the Reece, Green, Hoover and Martin orations.

"The dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present. The occasion is piled high with difficulty and we must rise with the occasion. As our case is new, so must we think anew and act anew."

The men who put that quotation into the platform are obviously aware that a party which is going to govern the country in the years to come cannot subsist on a diatribe and flapdoodle.

Chiselers

It is costing gullible Americans $600,000,000 a year to support the sucker industry in the style to which it is accustomed, according to the current issue of '48 The Magazine of the Year.

The publication lists some of the surest ways to avoid confidence men.

Don't be carried away by humanitarian impulses; confidence men depend on them. Don't heed appeals by mail from unknown institutions. Don't respond to telephone solicitations; make the solicitor put it in writing. Don't shell out to collectors for obscure charities, especially for unknown religious projects. Look carefully at all "benefit" promotions; the beneficiaries may be the promoters. Be careful about similarity of names. Don't pay for unsolicited merchandise. Interview With a Millionaire Horse

STYMIE a rare horse bought for $1,500 — about the cost of a round of cocktails, has earned over a million dollars, or nearly so, and Shudda Haddim, the well known horse player who has a way with horses, succeeded in getting an interview with the plutocratic steed.

PHILLIPS

Hirsh Jacobs, his owner was reluctant to permit it. "So far," he explained, "the horse has been regular. I wouldn't want him to develop into a stiff."

"Do they have stiffs at race tracks?" asked Shudda Haddim.

"You should know," replied Mr. Jacobs.

• • •

Asked if Stymie had in any way changed since getting into the upper brackets Mr. Jacobs replied that he had noticed it in a couple of instances. "He lately he refused to finish his dinner until brought him a finger bowl. And the other day he whinnied in a Groton accent," he explained.

• • •

"We think we have accounted for these times where Stymie usually a terrible finisher has failed to come through in the stretch," he continued. "We have discovered there was a fellow at the head of the stretch with a megaphone who waves a membership application in the Bankers Club as Stymie passes. That could have done it."

• • •

Shudda Haddim entered the barn. Stymie's stall was appropriately decorated. There were two Corots and a Rembrandt, some Remington statues and a feedbag once owned by Diamond Jim Brady. But the most striking features was an enormous window looking out from the front of the stall to give the Union League atmosphere. (Stymie loves to stand in it and gaze out.—Ed. note.)

• • •

"Stymie, how does it feel to have made your first million?" Shudda Haddim asked.

"Believe me, it ain't hay," said the horse. "And that, in fact, is the trouble with it."

• • •

"Don't you get a kick out of the Horatio Alger angle in your career?"

"Alger? Alger? Don't you mean McCrea?"

"Horatio Alger started with nothing and got to the top of the ladder," it was explained.

"Oh, one of those fire department horses," said Stymie.

• • •

"Do you realize you were once a poor castoff, picked up for fifteen hundred bucks?"

"The hay and oats taste the same now as they did then. And a million dollars is no defense against a horsefly," Stymie answered.

"Nevertheless you are a Horse of Distinction—the Rockefeller of the equine world."

"I don't get invited to none of their weddings," said Stymie sadly.

• • •

"Tell me," urged Shudda Haddim, "do you deliberately wait for the stretch to show your speed or do your feet hurt, or both?"

"It simply takes me time to get in the racing mood I am, as it were, a mood runner."

(Shudda Haddim made a note of that for next time out.)

The Barefoot Boy

By TRUMAN TWILL

Consider the foot. A "week" has been set aside for this purpose by the people who make comfort gadgets for feet.

The foot, affectionately regarded by adults when on small babies, is soon encased in a contrivance known as a shoe and never seen again, aside from such unavoidable exposures as occur in bathrooms, bathing beaches and places where its aches and pains are the subject of expert—but confidential—study.

When new, the foot has five toes on it that are limber and admirable, but these quickly succumb to the ravages of imprisonment and are nothing to brag about thereafter—in fact are never mentioned.

Until a genius thought up a machine that made it possible by means of X-rays to see how a foot fit in a shoe, no one knew or cared what happened to it. Sufficient unto the shoe was the price thereof. If the shoe fit, it should be put on. If it didn't fit, the clerk in the shoe store would put it on anyway.

Even with a machine to reveal whether the shoe fits or not, no one really cares what happens to a foot. The only attention it gets is when something goes wrong with it, whereupon it is stared at reproachfully and soaked in hot water containing something in the hope that may clear up the ailment in a jiffy.

So badly thought of is the foot that the mere act of propping it up on a conspicuous place, especially with nothing on it but a sock, is considered bad form. This is demonstrably as foolish as keeping the hands covered with two pairs of mittens 365 days a year—something no one in his right mind would dream of doing—but no one ever thinks of it that way. The feet is well, this is fine weather isn't it?

The only recognition of feet has come about in the design of women's shoes, once devoted exclusively to crowding the foot into a case far too narrow for it, then propping it up with a peg at the back end. Many shoes for women now permit the foot to be as free in its movements as an inmate of Alcatraz being held for robbing the U. S. mail.

Small children sometimes go barefoot in the summertime but this is no longer popular. So many politicians claimed that this experience hardened their moral character as children that it was safer to put shoes on all future children than deal with a lot of rugged personalities who got that way by going barefoot.

A "week" has been set aside to consider all this. Put the feet on the edge of the table and give them the benefit of the doubt. Wiggle the toes. Stroll through the dewy grass, first making sure no sharp objects are present. Mmmmm. Feels good, doesn't it? But quick—someone's coming. Get your shoes and stockings on. Don't be crude for pity's sake! What would people think if they saw you in your bare feet?

Who cares? There once was a time when no gentleman or lady ever was seen in public without gloves.

X-RAY UNITS OPEN TO PUBLIC 2 DAYS

Will Be Stationed at Courthouse Thursday, Friday.

Dr N. Sifritt, Marion county health commissioner, today lauded the assistance of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health association for its effort in helping bring the mobile X-ray units of the Ohio Department of Public Health here for the mass X-ray examination of industrial workers.

Advantages of the free examinations, which will be available to the general public tomorrow and Friday when the units will be open in front of the courthouse, were stressed today by Dr Sifritt.

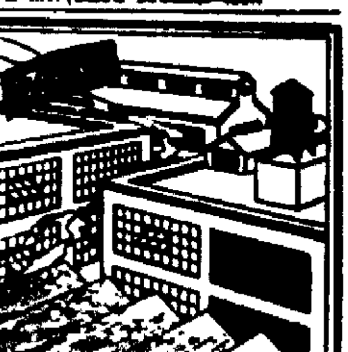

"The free examinations require little time and no trouble on the part of the person examined. They are given free and all results of the examinations are held confidential by the county and state health departments. These examinations profit both the community and the person examined and it is the public duty of every citizen of this community over the age of 14 to attend one of the free examination sessions, just to satisfy himself he is free of tuberculosis. Every citizen owes this service to himself his family and his friends. Dr Sifritt said.

The mobile X-ray unit will conduct public examinations between 1 and 4 p. m. tomorrow in front of the courthouse. Two examination periods will be held Friday at the same location between the hours of 9 p. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

It's no trick at all, Doc tells me, to take out an appendix. The tough job, he says, and the important one is knowing whether it is the appendix that's causing the trouble.

Same way with cars. Anybody who calls himself a mechanic can fix cars when somebody tells him and shows him exactly what's causing poor performance.

But the fellow who can spot the complaint right off—without costly, time-wasting guesswork and experimenting—there's a real serviceman.

And that's the only kind we have at our Dodge and Plymouth headquarters here. Fact is, our boys are so skilled that they don't even think they know it all.

Right now every last one of them is enrolled in the Master Technicians Service Conference. This is post-graduate education in engineering principles ... in the fastest, surest ways of finding mechanical difficulties ... in all the newest and best service techniques.

Doc, himself, says these mechanics are tops when it comes to check-ups and diagnosis. But don't take his word for it —bring in your car and see for yourself. You'll say you never saw such thorough service.

A NUPTIAL high mass in St. Ignatius Catholic church, Chicago solemnized the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Lauer, daughter of Stephen Lauer of that city, and Eugene Theodore Schuler, son of Mr and Mrs. Walter H. Schuler of 427 North Main street, Saturday morning. Rev Clarence DeRuntz, instructor at Josephenium Pontifical college, near Worthington, O., officiated for the ceremony and was the celebrant of the mass, at 11 o'clock.

Bouquets of white gladiolus were on the altar and the music included the hymn, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria," and "Panis Angelicus," Franck

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, and her finger-tip veil was held with a tiara of seed pearls. The bodice, trimmed with tiny self covered buttons in the back, had long fitted sleeves and outlining the yoke of illusion were two narrow bands of satin. The skirt extended into a long train. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis and greenery.

Mrs Edward Ahern, matron of honor, and Mrs. James Rispante and Miss Kathleen Collins, bridesmaids, wore taffeta gowns in an aqua marine shade. Fashioned on lines similar to the bride's gown, the dresses had short sleeves and were styled with bustles. Their shoulder length veils and gloves matched the gowns in color. The matron of honor carried a bouquet of orchid gladioli and pink peach sweet peas and the bridesmaids' flowers were peach gladiolus and orchid sweet peas.

Dr James Schuler of Chicago, brother of the bridegroom was the best man and ushers were John Schuler of Wyandotte, Mich., and Richard Schuler of Marion, also brothers of the bridegroom, and Arthur Sullivan and Roman Wagner of Chicago.

The bridegroom's mother was costumed in a light blue sheer print dress with which she wore navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a reception the couple left on a wedding trip through the Ozarks. For traveling the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will make their home in Chicago.

The bride was graduated from Mundelein college in Chicago and taught at the House of Good Shepherd in that city. Mr. Schuler, a graduate of St. Mary Parochial High school here, attended Dayton university and was graduated from Loyola university in Chicago. He served three years in World War II and saw service with the Eighth Air Force in the European theater. He is associated with the McQueen Construction Co. as an accountant.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were gold compacts and Mr Schuler gave the best man and ushers monogrammed tie clasps.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs Walter H. Schuler, Mrs. Harold Monnette, Miss Mary F Schuler, Richard Schuler, Tom Schuler and Jack Williams of Marion, Miss Ann Schuler of Cincinnati, Mrs. Helen Donovan, Mr and Mrs. Carl Steigerwald and James Steigerwald of Lakewood, Mr. and Mrs. John Schuler of Wyandotte, Mich., Mr and Mrs. Gene Brown of Cincinnati, Mrs. E. Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Lucille Heimlich, daughter of Mr and Mrs Edward Heimlich of near Cardington, to Carl G. Ackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ackerman, also of near Cardington. The double ring ceremony was read Saturday, June 12, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in St. John's Lutheran church at Windfall by the pastor, Rev. H. K. Diemer. Palms, baskets of pink gladioli and carnations and lighted tapers held in two seven branch candelabra decorated the altar.

Preceding the ceremony, a half-hour program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Homer Ebert, organist, and Edward Ebert, vocalist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette fashioned with a fitted bodice which was accented with a sweetheart neckline outlined with tiny seed pearls. Tiny self covered buttons trimmed the back. The full skirt extended into a long train. Her double fingertip length veil of English illusion was held in place by a heart shaped tiara of seed pearls and orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white snapdragons.

Miss Louise Fisher of Springfield, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her gown of yellow marquisette was fashioned similar to that of the bride. She wore matching mitts and her headress was a tiara of yellow net. She carried a colonial bouquet of Talisman roses and yellow daisies tied with blue ribbon. The candles were lighted by Miss Marilyn June Klingel of South Rochwood, Mich., cousin of the bride, who wore a gown of rose net over satin and a corsage of white gardenias. Miss Patty Rengert as flower girl was attired in a printed organdy dress with a matching tiara in her hair.

Joe Cobourn served as best man, and ushers were Gene and Kenneth Heimlich, brothers of the bride.

Both Mrs. Heimlich and Mrs. Ackerman, mothers of the couple, were attired in navy blue sheer dresses with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of red roses.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony. Decorations were in blue and white and a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table. When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Ackerman was wearing an ice blue two-piece linen suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and carnations. Following their return, the couple will reside in their new home west of Cardington.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman are graduates of Cardington High school. Mr. Ackerman served three years in the Air Corps during World War II and is now employed at the Huber Mfg. Co. plant in Marion.

A double ring ceremony which took place Saturday, June 19, in the Immaculate Conception church in Kenton united in marriage Miss Anna Jane Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parl L. Williams of Mt. Victory, and H. Joseph Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dick of Kenton. The ceremony was read at 9 o'clock in the morning by the pastor, Rev. H. J. Schumacher, before the church altar decorated with palms, baskets of white gladioli tied with large white satin ribbon bows, and lighted candles in candelabra.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin. The bodice was trimmed with Chantilly lace and accented with a sweetheart neckline. Long sleeves ended in points over the hands and the full skirt fell over a satin hoop and extended into a modified train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots headdress. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a corsage of white rosebuds and baby breath and showered with satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Wesley Mouser, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Miss Edith Parthemore was bridesmaid, and Miss Jane Dick, sister of the bridegroom was flower girl. Both Mrs Mouser and Miss Parthemore wore taffeta gowns fashioned with fitted bodice and styled with off the shoulder marquisette necklines outlined with shirred bertha collars and full hoop skirts with bustle backs. Mrs. Mouser was in daffodil yellow and Miss Parthemore was dressed in a corn flower blue shade. Each wore an open crown marquisette hat and mitts to mach their gowns. The matron of honor carried a bouquet of Talisman roses, and Miss Parthemore's bouquet was of pink roses. The flower girl, attired in white net with matching headress, carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

LaVerne Dick of Kenton served as best man for his brother, and ushers were Wesley Mouser of Marysville and Lee Friemoth of Lima.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Williams chose a printed gray sheer dress with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to 45 guests at the home of the bride's parents. Serving were Mrs. Charles E. Keller, Mrs Gale Smith, Mrs Ada Temple, Mrs. Ross Headington, Mrs. Lewis Kerns and Miss Wynter Moody. Upon their return from a wedding trip to the Gulf states the couple will reside on North High street in Kenton.

Mrs. Dick was graduated from Mt. Victory High school, with the class of 1940 and formerly was employed as a clerk in the B & O Railroad office at Lima. Mr. Dick, a graduate of Kenton High school with the class of 1938, is associated with the State Pilot Feed Co. in Kenton.

TRIALS ARE DELAYED IN CRIMINAL CASES

Two Others Are Fined on Change of Pleas.

Of three criminal cases scheduled for trial this week in common pleas court, two have been temporarily removed from the docket at the request of defendants' counsel and one disposed of when the defendant pleaded guilty to a lesser charge.

Marion R Hughes scheduled for trial today on a charge of rape with consent entered a guilty plea to assault and was fined $200 and costs and placed on a year's probation by Judge Paul D Smith. The assault charge was carried as a second count on his indictment. County Prosecutor James E Reed said. Harold Hood indicted on a similar charge also was fined $200 and given a year's probation. Both were represented by Attorney Ralph E Carhart.

Case of Joseph F Barnes who was to be tried yesterday on an assault indictment, was temporarily removed from the docket at the request of his attorney, Bernard C Moloney. Case of Isaac Lawrence, who was to be tried for robbery Thursday, was set back to June 30 today by Judge Smith at the request of Lawrence's counsel, Frank Wiedemann.

Also pending is the case of Clifford R. Bayles, who was scheduled to be tried June 17 on a charge of receiving stolen property. His case was removed from the docket at the request of counsel Frank Gegenheimer and has not been rescheduled.

In the case of Norman W Miller, who pleaded guilty to an indictment for assault, Judge Smith levied a $200 fine and put him on probation for a year. His case had been taken under advisement by the court. His attorney was Frank Wiedemann.

Another defendant, Marvin Ray Warkentien who pleaded not guilty to an indictment on carrying concealed weapons, reversed his plea and was fined $100. John W Watters represented him.

Three other cases await disposition. Richard LeRoy Bayles is scheduled for trial June 29 on the charge of receiving stolen property. His attorney is Bernard C Moloney. Trial dates have not been set in the cases of Mrs. Alice Ogiesbee, charged with shooting with malice, and Clare Hickman, charged with malicious destruction of property.

CAREENING CAR CREATES GEYSER. A water geyser from a broken fire hydrant shoots high over an overturned car in downtown Oakland, Calif. The automobile first hit a telephone pole and continued for 200 feet before hitting the fire hydrant and overturning. Both the driver and a passenger escaped injury.

BENDER GETS NEW OHIO STATE POST

Former Waldo Man Advanced by University.

Dr. Ralph E Bender, formerly of near Waldo, has been named chairman of the department of agricultural education of Ohio State university, beginning July 1. This appointment was announced by L. L. Rummel, dean of the college of agriculture.

The department of agricultural education has the responsibility for the training of prospective teachers of vocational agriculture and rendering in-service training to the present teachers in Ohio.

Dr. Bender has had extensive experience in vocational education in agriculture. He has been a member of the university staff since 1937, after having taught for 4 years in the Anna High school. In recent years he has served as president of the Ohio Vocational Agriculture association and president of the Ohio Vocational association.

He is a graduate of Waldo school, the son of Edward Bender. As a high school student he was active in Future Farmer activities. He was president of the Ohio Association and vice president of the National FFA.

New Draft Law Speeds Guard Enlistment Here

Imminence of the draft bill recently passed by congress and scheduled to become law as soon as President Truman signs it has caused a rush of enlistments in the National Guard unit here?

Sixteen local draft age youths have enlisted in Co C, 166th Infantry, local National Guard unit here during the past week, eight of the enlistees being inducted at a regular session of the guard at the armory last night, a guard spokesman said today.

A rumor is current in Washington, President Truman, himself a National Guard colonel, is delaying signing of the draft to swell enlistments in the guard. No official confirmation of this exists according to Washington news services.

Guard spokesmen here said today enlistments of draft age youths would be accepted until the draft bill is signed. Enlistment in the National Guard removes draft age youths from draft eligibility, under the law.

HOPES FOR "NEW PARTY"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23 — The New Party plans to stay on the political scene after the November elections, no matter who wins, says Henry A. Wallace. He made the statement to a group of his volunteer workers at party headquarters last night.

Wallace said that in his presidential bid he now hopes for "many times" the 4,000,000 votes he once set as his goal.

PROBE 4 BURGLARIES

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 23— Wyandot county Sheriff Stansbery and police here today were investigating a series of four burglaries, reported to have been committed early yesterday here and at nearby Nevada. Doors were pried open at each place and police believe at least two persons made entries. About $90 was missing at the Karg Motor Sales here, $50 in silver from the Coon Tire store in Nevada, $12 from the V. V. Pool garage there, and the largest amount of loot was lifted at the John Truka grocery in Nevada where the burglars took $160 in cash, cigarets and candy bars.

CAR COSTS UP, SO ARE PRICES

Six Major Auto Makers Show Increase in Dollars Asked of Buyer.

By DAVID J. WILLIS
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, June 23 — The auto industry's production costs also are going up and so are new car prices.

Car makers raising prices in recent weeks include Ford, Chrysler, Hudson, Packard, Studebaker and Nash. Many industry trade sources believe further advances are in prospect this year.

With increases of $75 to $124 on its new Ford models, the Ford Motor Co notified its dealers last week the customary discounts will not be applied to the advances. Instead the dollar profits to the dealers on different types of Fords will be the same as they have been so far this year. All the additional cost to the car purchaser will go to the manufacturer.

The action does not apply to Ford's Mercury and Lincoln models nor to Ford trucks. It was described by Ford vice president J. R. Davis as a temporary program. Some industry sources have estimated it will trim the dealers' gross profit an average of $35 a car. Ford recently announced the switch-over to the entirely new 1949 Ford cost more than $37,000,000 in retooling and other expenditures.

GM Spending Heavily

General Motors said after its recent wage adjustment with the CIO United Automobile Workers' Union that there would be no "immediate" price increase. But GM is spending heavily on new model tools and equipment, and a price increase in its passenger car lines has been regarded as more than likely. Many trade analysts expected GM to increase prices when it introduced its new 1948 models several months ago.

The trend toward higher prices has not affected demand perceptibly. Reports to the various home offices tell of many dealers refusing orders because of inability to promise deliveries. Meanwhile all kinds of pressure is being put on the factory heads, their sales chiefs and on persons presumed to have some influence at the company distributing centers.

The National Automobile Dealers Association recently used 6,000,000 as the total of unfilled orders now on dealers' books. This is somewhat higher than most other estimates so far this year. The increase may represent additional orders brought out by the approach of summer vacation periods, although delivery prospects now are worse than at any time since the war's end.

Counting More Orders

A year ago most auto industry analysts said advancing prices were forcing hundreds of thousands of prospective buyers out of the market. If any were "priced out" their places have been taken by others apparently willing to pay up to double pre-war prices for new cars.

Certainly the various car builders are counting considerably more orders than they did at this time last year.

Many industry experts say the backlog of unfilled orders contains a larger number of duplications than is generally believed—even more than were listed a year ago. But, they add, duplications aren't necessarily dead orders. Many of the vehicles on duplicated orders eventually will find their way to persons unable to get an order on file at this time.

This might result through individual re-sales or through used car lot purchases.

ISRAEL TIES TIGHTENED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 23—The United States today tightened its ties with the new state of Israel by agreeing to an exchange of diplomatic missions. The agreement, announced by President Truman last night, adds another friendly gesture to his prompt recognition of the infant state on May 15. James Grover McDonald of New York was named special United States representative to the Tel Aviv regime.

HEADS GIRLS' STATE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 23 — Marilyn Tarshish, a 16-year-old Columbus brunette, was elected governor of the second annual Buckeye Girls' State yesterday. She defeated Margaret Whitaker of Springfield, candidate of the Idealist party. Miss Tarshish, a senior at the Columbus School for Girls, was backed by the Realists.

SENATE NOMINEE. Nominated for U. S. senator on the Republican ticket in Maine, Rep. Margaret C. Smith (elected) would be the nation's second elected woman senator. She beat Gov. Horace Hildreth and two other candidates.

ISRAELI GUNS BLAST REBEL MUNITION SHIP

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, June 23—Israeli mortar fire blasted a munitions ship beached by Irgun Zvai Leumi rebels last night as civil strife shook the new Jewish state of Israel.

The ammo-laden vessel burst into flames, throwing a four-hour battle between Irgun and the army into confusion. Thousands of Tel Aviv residents fled the central water front, scene of the fighting.

The ship—an LST—was carrying 600 tons of munitions in violation of the terms of the four-weeks United Nations truce which forbids the importation of arms during that period.

Later, persons watching from distant rooftops, said they heard 12 or 15 explosions. Clouds of smoke arose, obscuring the whole area. Soon afterward an Irgun truck with a loudspeaker toured the city while an announcer proclaimed sarcastically,

"Haganah has achieved a great victory in blowing up our ship."

The Irgun announcer said Menachen Beigin, commander of the former underground organization, had a "narrow escape" from the burning ship.

There were no further reports of Irgun-Israeli fighting on Tel Aviv beach after both sides fled the battle ground in fear of explosions.

Some 40 persons were reported killed or injured in the fighting.

HOOVER

the third straight time the permanent chairmanship of the GOP national convention.

In his review of world problems, Mr Hoover said this country must continue to help foreign nations in rebuilding from the ravages of war—but not to such an extent as to overburden the American economy.

To weaken the nation's finances in carrying the double load of relief and increased armaments would be playing "Stalin's game," he cautioned, "for his expressed real hope lies in our economic collapse for which his fifth columns are busily planning."

The former president called upon the convention to pick candidates who will recognize "we are in a critical battle to safeguard our nation and civilization."

HENRY COMES FIRST

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, June 23—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia skipped all mention of the Republican national convention in Philadelphia yesterday and reported instead on the creation of a third party movement supporting Henry A. Wallace in Ohio.

TWO DIE IN TRAIN WRECK

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTE, Pa., June 23— A conductor and brakeman were killed and three other trainmen injured when two freight trains collided two miles south of here yesterday. The dead were identified by Pennsylvania railroad officials as Conductor James Bathurst, 58, of Bellefonte, and Brakeman R. J. Miller, 24, of Blanchard.

NEW HIGHWAY HOTEL TO BE BUILT HERE

Ben Peterson Reveals Plans for Project.

A highway motor court hotel is to be erected at the eastern edge of Marion on route 30-S near Garland park, Ben Peterson owner of the Berger Manufacturing Co. announced today. The project is expected to cost $200,000.

"Several Marion citizens and I are in the process of forming the Highway Court Hotel Corp. for the purpose of constructing the hotel," he said. It is to be located about three blocks east of the park on the opposite side of the highway, just outside the city limits. It will consist of two buildings. Mr. Peterson owns the property on which the hotel will be erected.

One building, the hotel itself, will have 52 units and will be made in the shape of a square "U" and the other will be built at the tip of one wing and will consist of a lobby, dining room and manager's quarters. Two acres of landscaping will front the building and a circular driveway will be built between the two wings.

"It will be a one story structure of concrete block and brick construction and completely furnished throughout with modern equipment," Mr. Peterson said. Dimensions of the rooms will be 15 by 18 feet and will have a bath in each. The law firm of Marion and Reed are handling legal proceedings for the incorporation. Charles Oborn is the architect. Plans have not been completed. Construction will begin in 30 to 40 days, Mr. Peterson said.

Three Traffic Accidents On Police Report

Three traffic accidents involving slight damage and no injuries were reported by city police for Tuesday.

At 5:23 p. m. a Marion Power Shovel Co. truck driven by William Gannon, 23, of near Marion and a car driven by Craig H. Stansburg, 26, of 690 Florence street collided at the Shovel Co. driveway on West Center street. Both vehicles were slightly damaged.

A collision occurred between a truck driven by Ralph Pearlwood, 46, of 314 North Greenwood and a car driven by Edith Mildred Gaither, 53, of 945 South Prospect street at the intersection of Main and Center street at 3:45 p. m. Tuesday. The Gaither car was damaged.

At the intersection of Main and Center street cars driven by Patrick Francis Ring Jr., 23, of 231 West Fairground and Arthur P. Ritzhaupt, 26, of Mansfield, collided at 9:10 last night. Damage to both cars was slight.

Brown Says Dewey Lacks Votes To Win

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 — Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, campaign manager for Sen. Robert A. Taft, said today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "doesn't have enough votes to win."

Brown disclosed that Arkansas will yield to Ohio on the roll call to permit Sen. John W. Bricker to place Taft's name in nomination for the presidency.

The Taft manager said that he had been fully informed of the development whereby Arizona will yield to New York for the Dewey nomination.

Loses 39 Lbs. Regains Curves Says Painesville Lady

Flossie Tuttle, R. D. 4 Midway Blvd., Painesville, Ohio writes, "I was just plain fat weighing 177 lbs. and being only 5 ft. 3 inches tall. Since taking Rennel I have lost 39 lbs. and feel better; more pep and full of life. No more puffing and blowing. Rennel has done me worlds of good. Those hidden curves are all mine again and I have not known a hungry moment while reducing. My motto is 'Be faithful to Rennel' and I am very sincere in my praise for this reducer."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

Already these dealers have requests from you for approximately 4300 cars!

Here's the answer:

The Marion County Automobile Dealers Association, in order to justify your dealers position and to clarify your chances of getting the car you have chosen to order, is publishing these facts for your consideration.

We the undersigned Dealers of Marion County have requests from you for more than 4,300 new automobiles.

During the year 1947 we delivered 1,249 cars in Marion County.

The present population of our county is about 50,000—about one in every four persons own and operate an automobile In other words there are more than 12,000 automobiles in operation in our county at the present time, and by the same token 12,000 cars are being used and worn every day.

Since the year 1947 was almost a peak production year for the manufacture of cars.we can not anticipate any great increase in production in the predictable future.

We well realize your position and hope that you see ours. Our 4,300 requests for new automobiles are bound to increase from day to day; and we can not hope for more than 1,375 cars this year. You can therefore realize that the chances of catching up with new automobile requests is very indefinite.

Won't you please bear with us during this period of shortages and we will serve you to the best of our ability

There are 448 requests for new trucks! There will be only an estimated 260 new trucks available within the next twelve months!

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23 — Fast buying drove railroad issues well ahead of a rising stock market today.

Gains for the carriers ranged to an extreme of 3 points while improvement elsewhere was generally limited to a point or less.

Renewed strength in the rails was a carry-over from Tuesday's market when the group as a whole matched the 21-month high first reached in mid-May.

Nickel Plate topped yesterday's 3-point gain with another jump of 3 points. Also marked up were Seaboard Air line, Erie, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Kansas City Southern.

Steels made a good showing with Republic up more than a point. Smaller gains were posted for U S Steel, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet.

Chrysler added a point and higher prices were paid for Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, Anaconda Copper, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper and Standard Oil (NJ).

A number of factors helped to boost railroad issues. May earnings statements which started to come out a few days ago have shown wide improvement over a year ago in many cases. June reports are expected to continue or even better this trend.

Camera Views of GOP Convention

TENSE — AND TIRED. Page girls at the Republican national convention find it a tough day in Philadelphia. The best place to rest is in the aisles. And some of the neighboring delegates, even on the first night of the convention, seem a bit tired, too. This unusual study was taken by Lloyd E. James of the Youngstown, O., Vindicator. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

HONEST ABE IN PLACE OF HONOR. As is the time-honored custom at GOP conventions, a huge wreath-draped portrait of Abraham Lincoln, first Republican president, is moved into place in the Philadelphia convention hall. It occupies the honor spot, just behind the speaker's rostrum.

"MR. TRUMAN'S TIME IS SHORT—" "—His position is hopeless . . . he is a gone goose," Clare Boothe Luce, GOPulchritude leader and former representative from Connecticut, tells the thousand cheering Republican delegates in convention hall, Philadelphia. (International Soundphoto)

LOOKING OVER HIS 4-LEAF CLOVERS. Candidate Taft responds to the plaudits of enthusiastic supporters at Philadelphia's Benjamin Franklin hotel after being introduced by Rep. George H. Bender (right) of Cleveland, who applauds vigorously. The sign carries Taft's campaign song, to the tune of "I'm looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

Farm Bureau Branch Manager Transferred

About 100 persons, consisting of employes and their families, attended a farewell picnic for Robert Cook, former branch manager of Marion county Farm Bureau, Saturday at McKinley park. He was transferred to the Morrow county cooperative association June 1. Kenneth Pryor has taken over branch manager duties here. A brief case was given to Mr. Cook as a farewell gift.

PROSPECT SERVICE

A service of communion will be held at the morning worship service of St. Paul Lutheran church at Prospect Sunday. Wednesday night, a special "Green Room" program of the Luther League will be held, with Larry Reyelts, a student at Wartburg seminary Dubuque, Iowa, as speaker. He will talk on Luther League work and worship. The meeting will be open to the entire congregation. Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, pastor announced. Plans are being made for a daily vacation Bible school to open Monday and continue through July 9.

ENLIST IN NAVY

Two Marion area men left this week for preliminary training after having enlisted in the Navy, local recruiter Carl T. Pruenek, RMC, reported today. They are Marvin L. Hamilton, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, of 640 East Center street and Lloyd W. Miner, 17, of Morral. Both are high school graduates this year. Both enlisted for three years and after recruit training are to be sent to submarine school at New London, Conn.

Retired Professor Is Rotary Speaker

"Fear as a Controlling Factor in Business" was the subject of a talk given by Charles C. Morris of Columbus, retired professor of Ohio State university, at the Rotary club weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

He commented on the fact that in the past one crisis after another has been created not only in business but also in the government, and declared that he believes prices must be leveled off in order to establish the country on a sound basis. He declared government should never add to the amount of money in circulation in order to stimulate buying.

Guests of the club were Rotarian O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor, O., and Petrie Moffat of Columbus.

O. E. S. CLOSES SEASON

Members of Lydia chapter No. 33, Order of the Eastern Star, closed their season with initiatory work Monday night at the Masonic temple. Special music included a vocal duet by Mrs. Lydia Guthrie and Mrs. Eve Hunter. A social hour in the dining-room followed the business session. Meetings will be resumed the third Monday in September.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 23 — Fast buying drove railroad issues well ahead of a rising stock market today.

Gains for the carriers ranged to an extreme of 3 points while improvement elsewhere was generally limited to a point or less.

Renewed strength in the rails was a carry-over from Tuesday's market when the group as a whole matched the 21-month high first reached in mid-May.

Nickel Plate topped yesterday's 5-point gain with another jump of 3 points. Also marked up were Seaboard Air line, Erie, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Kansas City Southern.

Steels made a good showing with Republic up more than a point. Smaller gains were posted for U S Steel, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet.

Chrysler added a point and higher prices were paid for Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, Anaconda Copper, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper and Standard Oil (NJ).

A number of factors helped to boost railroad issues. May earnings statements, which started to come out a few days ago, have shown wide improvement over a year ago in many cases. June reports are expected to continue or even better this trend.

Inner-Aid Medicine Real Relief For Gas, Constipation

One man recently took INNER-AID three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much waste substance. He says his stomach intestines bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man feeling fine in every way.

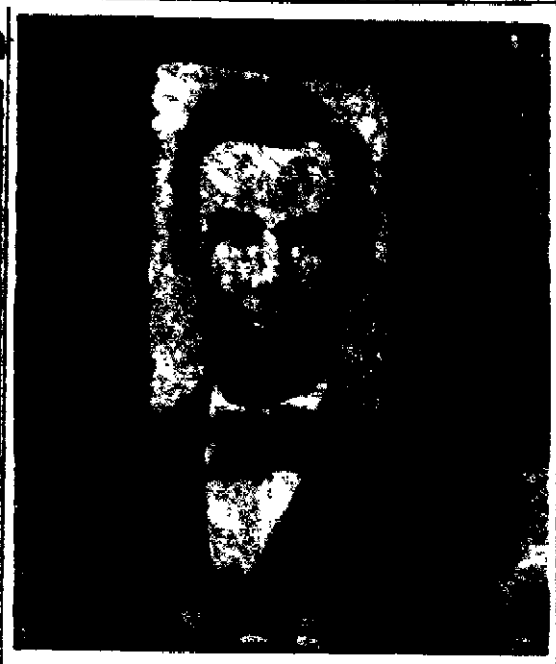

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs, they cleanse bowels clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores. —Adv.

Camera Views of GOP Convention

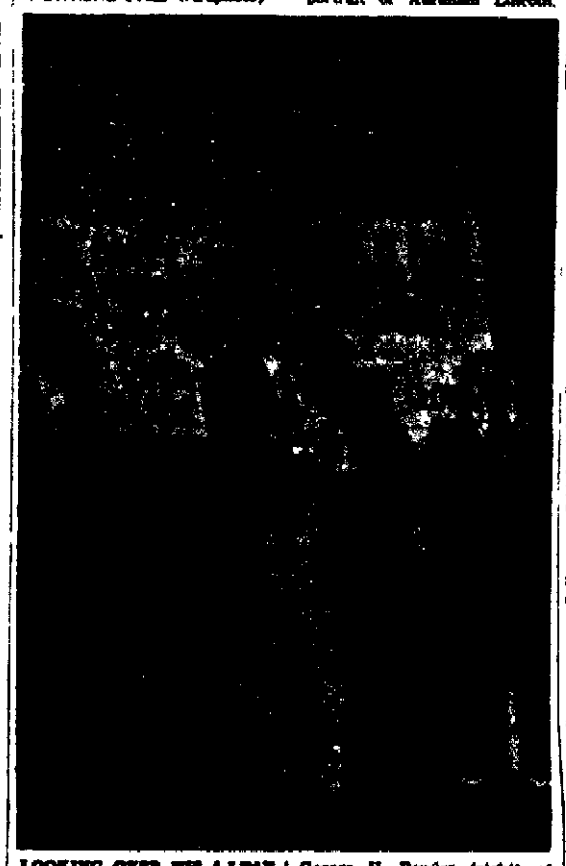

TENSE — AND TIRED. Page girls at the Republican national convention find it a tough day in Philadelphia. The best place to rest is in the aisles. And some of the neighboring delegates, even on the first night of the convention, seem a bit tired, too. This unusual study was taken by Lloyd S. Jones of the Youngstown, O., Vindicator. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

HONEST ABE IN PLACE OF HONOR. As is the time-honored custom at GOP conventions, a huge wreath-draped portrait of Abraham Lincoln, first Republican president, is moved into place in the Philadelphia convention hall. It occupies the honor spot, just behind the speaker's rostrum.

LOOKING OVER HIS 4-LEAF CLOVERS. Candidate Taft responds to the plaudits of enthusiastic supporters at Philadelphia's Benjamin Franklin hotel after being introduced by Rep. George H. Bender (right) of Cleveland, who applauds vigorously. The sign carries Taft's campaign song, to the tune of "I'm looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

"MR. TRUMAN'S TIME IS SHORT—" "—His position is hopeless . . . he is a gone goose," Clare Boothe Luce, GOPulchritude leader and former representative from Connecticut, tells the thousand cheering Republican delegates in convention hall, Philadelphia (International Soundphoto)

Retired Professor Is Rotary Speaker

"Fear as a Controlling Factor in Business" was the subject of a talk given by Charles C. Morris of Columbus, retired professor of Ohio State university, at the Rotary club weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

He commented on the fact that in the past one crisis after another has been created not only in business but also in the government, and declared that he believed prices must be leveled off in order to establish the country on a sound basis. He declared government should never add to the amount of money in circulation in order to stimulate buying.

Guests of the club were Rotarian O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor, O., and Petrie Moffat of Columbus.

O. E. S. CLOSES SEASON

Members of Lydia chapter No. 88, Order of the Eastern Star, closed their season with initiatory work Monday night at the Masonic temple. Special music included a vocal duet by Mrs. Lydia Guthrie and Mrs. Eve Hunter. A social hour in the dining-room followed the business session. Meetings will be resumed the third Monday in September.

Farm Bureau Branch Manager Transferred

About 100 persons, consisting of employees and their families, attended a farewell picnic for Robert Cook, former branch manager of Marion county Farm Bureau, Saturday at McKinley park. He was transferred to the Morrow county cooperative association June 1. Kenneth Fryer has taken over branch manager duties here. A brief chat was given to Mr. Cook as a farewell gift.

PROSPECT SERVICE

A service of communion will be held at the morning worship service of St. Paul Lutheran church at Prospect Sunday. Wednesday night, a special "Grass Roots" program of the Luther League will be held, with Larry Reyalts, a student at Wartburg seminary Dubuque, Iowa, as speaker. He will talk on Luther League work and worship. The meeting will be open to the entire congregation. Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, pastor, announced. Plans are being made for a daily vacation Bible school to open Monday and continue through July 9.

ENLIST IN NAVY

Two Marion area men left this week for preliminary training after having enlisted in the Navy local recruiter Carl T. Prunnell, EMC, reported today. They are Marvin L. Hamilton, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, of 640 East Center street and Lloyd W. Miner, 17, of Morral. Both are high school graduates this year. Both enlisted for three years and after recruit training are to be sent to submarine school at New London, Conn.

Political Cliches Have Own Meaning to Writer

By KATHARINE BRUSH
United Author and Novelist
(Copyright, 1948, by NEA)

PHILADELPHIA, June 23—The timeworn political phrases keep recurring at this convention, as they have at every other since Martin Van Buren was a pup; and it's no help to me in the job to have my mind keep taking them literally, when they're meant to be merely figurative.

Take bandwagon, for instance. I know perfectly well what they mean by that, but nevertheless I persist in seeing it as a beautiful shiny red wagon—just big enough for the band, which is brass.

No riders at all, just the band boys, and maybe a blonde who sings. The wagon is horse-drawn, for some reason—By what are known as party whip hosts; and these, in their own turn, I envision as powerful Percherons, with fluffy feet.

They do have human faces, however; and Katharine Brush they can talk—

Oh, yes, indeed they can!—in fact they're probably the talkingest horses the world has ever seen; and their harness is made up of party lines, all tangled and criss-crossed.

Then there are the party big-wigs. I used to look around for these, but I was unable to spot any—and I've decided that it's just a gag, kids. We needn't take it seriously.

Some Need 'Em

It's true that many politicians need wigs—they're quite apt to be as bald as eagles—but they don't dare to wear them. What would the voters think?

Which brings us neatly to the subject of the whispering campaign.

This becomes the kind that Wendell Willkie once conducted in his own behalf, after he'd lost his voice in Omaha or somewhere—you remember.

He went right on speech-making, in a horse-hiss. That's what I mean.

And Grand Old Party

For some reason, this phrase gets mixed up in my thinking with "fat old party," and suggests an individual rather than a faction.

It is true that the Grand Old Party is not as stout as the fat old party, but he has a definite bay-window nevertheless, and a well-fed sort of look.

Such hair as he has is rather sparse, showing pink scalp through; sometimes there's a kewpie tuft on top and sometimes not.

The thing that makes him "grand" is that he's genial, convivial, ruddy-faced, smiling—or else, on the other hand, he's rather pompous and toplofty. Either way, the adjective fits him fine.

And finally, smoke-filled rooms. I'm sick of this one, in the first place—and in the second place, no matter how tightly you fill it, and no matter how smoky it gets, it's still just a hotel room, isn't it?

Just Another Room

The room is a hotel room, like any other. It has two beds and a blue damask chair with a cigaret-burn in the left arm, and a reddish chair, and two straight chairs, and a desk with an inkwell with no ink in it. Inside the desk, there's an old laundry list left there by somebody named S. K. Johnson, who appears to have been a hard man on shirts.

The room has buff-colored walls, or green ones, and the pictures on the wall are either sunsets over Arizona, or flower prints out of Woolworths, or nymphs disporting themselves around a pool in a woodland glade, or little girls in feathered bonnets riding side-saddle on bright brown horses.

There's a table in the room, which is cluttered with melted ice and used glasses, because room service won't come and take them away, no matter how frequently you plead. They won't even come and take away the remains of your breakfast, though it's evening now.

And one of the reasons the air is so blue and so stale is that the ashtrays haven't been emptied since day before yesterday—and furthermore, one of the windows won't open, and there are only two.

Well, and so that's a smoke-filled room. So now you know.

CONVENTION

Senator Edward Martin, a leader of the other, withdrew yesterday as a "favorite son" and declared his support for Dewey.

Any doubt that Dewey's name would be the first to go before the convention was removed when the Alabama delegation voted 8-6 to yield its first place on the alphabetical roll call to Pennsylvania so that Martin could nominate the New Yorker.

An Associated Press survey of delegate intentions pointed up the formidable task confronting the "stop Dewey" forces.

Based in many cases on official delegation polls and in others on the best guess of responsible members, this survey indicated that if Dewey throws in his full strength he may have from 274 to 407 votes on the first ballot.

The survey also showed that, if delegates do not change their present intentions, he might get 80 additional votes on later roll calls. This still would leave him short of the 548 needed to nominate.

Taft's Probable Vote

Taft's first ballot figure was estimated in the survey at between 207 and 217 on the first count, with a net backlog of 60 additional votes due to come his way.

Stassen's strength was listed as 150 on the first ballot. But if the delegates carried out their announced intentions, the Minnesotan might lose a net of 13 thereafter.

Vandenberg was credited with up to 86 votes as a starter. Warren has California's 53 plus one in Missouri and Duff—fighting the move by Senator Edward Martin to take Pennsylvania into Dewey's camp—was variously credited with controlling from 17 to 42 of the state's 73.

The anti-Dewey forces thus were estimated to have a maximum of 319 first ballot votes—not counting strictly favorite sons. But they were split five ways.

And in that lay the chances for the seemingly outnumbered legions of the New York governor to make him the first nominee in the history of 24 Republican conventions to get a second crack at the White House after once failing to make the grade.

Apparent Strategy

The Taft-Stassen-Warren-Duff strategy apparently was to agree that each would hold his own lines firm and help keep doubtful states like New Jersey, Indiana and Massachusetts out of Dewey's hands.

There seemed to be no beginning yet of any successful move among the New Yorker's foes to settle on a single standard-bearer.

While this major battle was exploding in the background, the convention impatiently went about the business of clearing the way for the main event.

A 2,400-word platform promising an attack on the "basic causes of inflation" and pledging help for peace-loving foreign nations "within the prudent limits of our own economic welfare" was ready for quick adoption.

Talks Today

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, a favorite son who might be a key figure in the Dewey drive if he carried his state's 29 votes into that camp, had his moment in the klieg light sun shining steadily on the speaker's dias.

In a prepared address, Halleck said the Republican party is the party of peace. But he said bluntly that Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia must learn there is a line beyond which communism must not go.

In another prepared address, Senator Harry P. Cain of Washington said the Republicans can win in November but lose four years from now "without half trying."

He added that the party must live up to its platform pledges.

The convention was ready for the whirling dervish ovations that always greet the mention of the man who—

The delegates had their first taste of it last night when they went on a yelling, stamping, marching, music-blaring binge in honor of former President Herbert Hoover.

It lasted 14 minutes and was about the biggest cheer since 1932 the GOP had mustered for its only living ex-president. The Republicans all looked happy about it.

This morning's session of the convention adjourned at 12:10 p. m. (EST) until 8 p. m. tonight.

Dewey, Confident, Shows Open Mind

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, June 23—Thomas E. Dewey, supremely confident that he's going to be the Republican presidential nominee, has an "open mind" regarding who should be his running mate on the ticket.

"There are a number of men in the party who are fit for the vice presidency," said the New York governor.

"I expect to work in harmony with whoever the convention nominates."

Gov. Dewey talked and acted today like a man who felt sure he "couldn't miss" becoming the GOP standard bearer.

JET FIGHTERS TO GO TO EUROPE. Here are three of the 75 Shooting Star jet fighters of the 36th Fighter Wing which have been ordered transferred from Albrook Field, Panama, to Germany. The move, according to an Air Force announcement in Washington, will be made about Aug. 15. They will be the first U. S. jet-propelled service planes to be sent to Europe.

MINERS

the pact expiring in a week hinged on Van Horn's decision because—

If he agreed to permit $100 pensions out of the fund as Lewis wants, prospects of a new agreement looked bright.

But if he appealed, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough's ruling approving the $100 pensions, the legal action would take considerable time and might mean a new court injunction to stop a summer coal strike.

Sen. Bridges (R-NY) neutral trustee for the fund, said in Philadelphia after the Goldsborough decision that he doesn't believe there will be a coal strike this summer.

K.C. Council Schedules Ball Game at Urbana

Plans for a ball game with Middletown at Urbana next Sunday were completed at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night. Arrangements also were made for the installation of officers July 13. Reports on the district initiation held Sunday, and other activities connected with the fortieth anniversary celebration of Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V.F., were given. Following the business session the lecturer, Lawrence Haenen, lecturer, was in charge of a smoker and lunch.

BURGLARS FOILED IN SAFE CRACKING

Merchant Police Officer Finds Farm Bureau Broken.

An aborted attempt at safe cracking was foiled Monday night by the arrival of a merchant patrolman at the offices of the Farm Bureau, police reported today.

Merchant Patrolman Braham noticed the west door of the Farm Bureau building on Park boulevard had been pried open when he arrived there on his rounds, Monday night at 8:15.

Entering the building Braham found the combination of the office safe had been knocked off apparently with a sledge. Evidence at the scene indicated the burglars left hurriedly.

Braham summoned city police who immediately began an investigation. A check by the manager of the office revealed nothing had been removed and a police check disclosed entry to the safe had not been gained.

A police investigation of the case is still in progress, Captain R. C. Mackus, officer in charge, reported today.

PROGRAM CLIMAXES VACATION SCHOOL

Bible Classes Close at Wesley Church.

As the closing feature of a two-week daily vacation Bible school at Wesley Methodist church, a program was given Friday night in the Junior church room for parents and friends of the pupils. Approximately 200 attended. For the program, the room was decorated with displays prepared by the art classes under supervision of Mrs. William McConkey. Music for the entire production was directed by Mrs. Floyd Lashey assisted by Ted Pollack and Miss Viola Mason. Miss Miriam Kinney was secretary for the school. Mrs. Della Davis assisted with costuming, and Miss Marie Johnson was director.

Various phases of the program were presented by children of the different grades under direction of their teachers. Included was Scripture presentation by fifth graders supervised by Mrs. Mae Kinney, songs and rhythm band numbers, first grade, Mrs. Beryl Faust and Mrs. Edith Bush supervising, "poster program," depicting themes of various stories from their lessons, five girls, Mrs. Pearl McDonald teacher, "The Story of Baby Moses," playlet by Mrs. Elmer Harris, acted by second graders, explanation of lessons by means of flannelgraph.

Mrs. Ray Buckingham's group of sixth graders; story of Noah and the ark with large reproduction of the ark and replica of the Bible on the stage, third and fourth graders representing the characters and animals of the narrative. Mrs. Lowell Pollock and Mrs. Edwin Brown were their teachers. A group of songs under direction of Mrs. Willard Gander completed the program.

Children taking part included Phyllis Ware, Ann Eiseman, Leslie McGuire, Sue Schmelzer, Marlene Little, Joyce Brewer, Gloria McAdams, Harriet Orr, Darlene Keeler, Ann Arthur, Donna Hord, Sandra Jackson, Judy Gibson, Ronald McConkey, Gary Sontag, Gary Mason, Charles Gerlach, Armitta Buckingham, Jimmy and Tommy Bowen, Joan Porter, Barbara Crist, Louise Bushatz, Jane Foos, Keith Henry, Jimmy Baumgarner, Phyllis Arthur, Marilyn Haines, Judy Jackson, Rowena Thrush, Patty Burkelew, Barbara Porter, Dick Wells, Charles Faust, Anita Buckingham, Carolyn Bradley, Mona K. WEDDING AT CALEDONIA

Announcement is being made of a wedding ceremony at the Church of Christ in Caledonia Sunday, June 13, in which Columbus residents, Miss Sally Matthews and Patrick B. Martin, were united in marriage. The bridegroom resided formerly near Caledonia and went to grade school there when he made his home with an aunt, Mrs. Clint Clouse. He is a son of Mrs. William Harlan of Columbus and a student at Ohio State university. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews of Columbus. Rev. Hubert Smith of Killbuck, Holmes county, a cousin of Mr. Martin, performed the double ring ceremony. Attendants of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clouse of Edison. Only the immediate families were present. For her wedding, the bride chose a gown in a drop-shoulder style, she wore a fingertip length veil and carried white carnations. Her matron of honor wore blue complimented with flowers of yellow. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement rooms, and the couple left on a short wedding trip. They will make their home in Columbus.

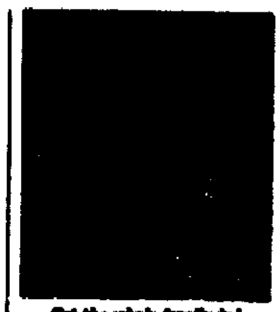

The only time during the year when more than eight bells are sounded on shipboard is at midnight New Year's Eve, when 16 bells are sounded.

Schmitt, Bohlander Club Out 11 to 10 Win over Zanesville

SAUER'S 21ST HOMER BREAKS RED RECORD

Cincinnati Nicks Philadelphia Nationals 6 to 4.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 — Hank Sauer held an undisputed first among Cincinnati right-handed batters today

And up there as a Red here for today was Danny Litwhiler His two-run tenth inning homer provided the Reds with a 6-4 victory over the Phillies last night

Sauer hit his 21st home run to eclipse the previous record of 20 homers in one season for Red right handers. Ernie Lombardi and Frank McCormick had shared the record until Sauer equalled the figure Monday.

Sauer's homer didn't provide the victory, but it did get the Reds off to a good start. It provided the first run of the game.

Kenny Raffensberger, who had been listed as a probable starter for today, won credit for the game with his three-strikeout performance in the last two innings. Taking over with the score tied, he handcuffed the Phillies while Litwhiler drove his homer into the left field bleachers.

Ewell Blackell held the Phillies to six hits in seven innings and got three strikeouts, but was lifted in the eighth for a pinch-hitter as the Reds trailed 2-1 Harry Gumbert was nicked for one hit in the eighth, but that brought in the matching run.

Bert Haas of Philadelphia tried to stretch his eighth inning triple to a homer and was thrown out at the plate

Johnny Neun changed his selection of a probable pitcher to Tommy Hughes, who will be making his fourth attempt to collect his first victory for the Reds

Ben Chapman of the Phillies nominated Robin Roberts, a rookie right hander, to oppose Hughes.

The Marion Cubs Don Schmitt and Lee Bohlander wielded Ruggised war clubs at Marion park last night.

Between them they got enough hits—nine—and batted in enough runs—seven—to win an ordinary ball game, but it was their clutch hitting in the ninth and eleventh innings, and some brilliant relief hurling by lefty Frank Marchelli that gave the Bruins an 11 to 10 victory over Zanesville's Dodgers

Schmitt's eleventh homer of the season in the last of the ninth drove in three runs to bring the Cubs from behind and send the game into extra innings with a 10-10 tie

And Bohlander who had led off the third and eighth innings with his second and third four-ply swats of the season, singled in the Cub's half of the eleventh to drive in Schmitt with the winning run.

Gives Up But 1 Hit

Marchelli, who came in in the eighth when the Cubs trailed 9 to 8, held the Dodgers to a single hit in the four innings he hurled An unearned Zanesville run scored on him in the ninth on a walk, stolen base and an error by Ken Ostrander

It was the first time this year that the Bruins fought their way back into the ball game after trailing as much as five runs, and it was the first extra inning ball game at the home park this year

Bohlander hit safely five times in seven trips his homers and a double in the ninth going into and over the left field, and his singles traveling right

Hits 4 for 6

Schmitt hit four-for-six three singles and his circuit clout going left.

All the Cubs, except Gene Bobseus who had a bad night at bat and in the field, and pinch hitter Stan King who grounded out for pitcher Nick Alivojvodic in the seventh, hit safely in totaling 21 safeties

And the Cubs needed all those hits to pull the game out of the fire, for they left 13 men stranded in earlier innings before Bohlander and Schmitt were lucky enough to come to bat with men on

Pete Schnepf grounded out to open the Cubs half of the eleventh, but Schmitt singled, moving to third on Marchelli's sacrifice and a Zanesville error, and scored on Bohlander's single.

The win was Marchelli's fourth against four losses Irvin Resoilet, the third of Zanesville's hurlers, drew the loss.

Ray Poat will probably take the hill tonight against the Dodgers, and acting-manager Dick Meyers will probably use Fred Wagner to oppose him. Meyers is piloting the Dodgers in the absence of Ray Hathaway, whose father died Monday.

THE way the Ohio-Indiana league race stands at the present time, it is practically a cinch that either Springfield or Muncie will be the scene of the annual All-Star game, scheduled this year to be played Tuesday July 27 at the home of the team in the lead on July 17 If the Reds and Giants carry on at their present rate — running neck and neck about six games ahead of the rest — then the deciding contests will probably be the two-game Muncie at Springfield series scheduled July 15 and 16

As little as Springfield needs pitching help, what with Len Kraus, Joe Greco Ted Birkeland etc etc they've now obtained a hurler, late of the Triple American Association He's Jim Barnes a six foot, two inch right hander who was optioned to the Giants from Minneapolis yesterday

The Lima Terriers who have lost 15 games by one run diagnose their trouble as lacking in a long ball hitter Owner Ray Laibe of the Terriers recently asked the Chicago White Sox farm director, Jack Rigney to send the Terriers a slugger on the order of Jack Maisch of last year's team, who is now with Waterloo and batting a solid .364

Louis-Walcott Fight Tonight Needs a Break in Weather

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 25—Given a break in the weather a bulky fight-weary Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight championship against Jersey Joe Walcott tonight in what well might mark the end of a boxing era.

It's this intriguing prospect—the last ring appearance of a great champion or an upset victory by the old campaigner from South Jersey—that is expected to lure a crowd of 95,000 into Yankee stadium

The 15-round title bout is scheduled to start at 9 p m EST

Twentieth Century Sporting club officials anticipate a gate of between $2,000,000 and $2,400,000 with radio and television receipts making it a million dollar affair if skies clear

The weatherman could offer little comfort on that point He said intermittent showers that hit the New York area yesterday may clear by evening permitting the battle to go on under warm humid conditions

If postponement is necessary, the bout will be staged Thursday night

Odds favoring Louis dropped to 8 to 12 as the result of a last-minute influx of Walcott money and it's possible they will shrink to 1-2 by ring time

If you like the champion by a knockout you must lay 7½ to 5 If you figure Walcott can end it before schedule you can back your sentiments at 4 to 1

The two principals both 34 and old as fighters go spent the next to last day quietly

They weigh in at noon today Louis expects to scale 218, the heaviest fighting weight of his career Walcott figures to check in at 195

16 Top Pro Golfers Start Inverness Play Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., June 25—The screwy-scoring 11th Inverness four-ball matches, for a $10,500 pot of gold, get under way tomorrow two-man teams, will battle it out over 126 holes during the next four

Sixteen of the country's top-flight professionals, paired into eight days, with all entrants assured a pay day.

Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, the one-two finishers in the recent National Open, will go after their third straight Inverness crown—and the $3,500 slice of the prize melon The two Texans also won in 1941 giving them three of the last four championships The war washed away the 1933-44-45 events

Seeking to oust the Hogan-Demaret due from the throne will be Ed Furgol, the Michigan youngster with the crippled left arm, paired with Bobby Locke, the South African champion, Dr Cary Middlecoff and Australian-born Jim Ferrier, the 1947 PGA king Stewart (Skip) Alexander and Johnny Palmer, a pair from Dixie, drawling Clayton Heafner and Herman Keiser former Masters victor ex-Open champion Lloyd Mangrum and curly-haired Dick Metz, long-hitting Melvin (Chick) Harbert and Vic Ghezzi, former PGA champion, E J (Dutch) Harrison and Bob Hamilton, another winner of the PGA laurels.

Under the unique Inverness plan, each twosome meets each other pair over the full 18-hole route For each hole finished 'up' on the foe in the best-ball match, the winners get a 'plus' The losers get a corresponding 'minus'

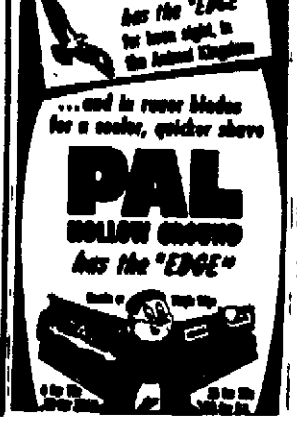

Scores are carried over from match to match and at the finish the team with the greatest plus grabs the $5,000

The PGA competitive record for 18 holes is 62 strokes and of the 10 men who have hit that figure six will be in the Inverness event Hogan has made two tournament tours in 62 while Ferrier Keiser Demaret Palmer and Alexander have done it once

The Inverness field plays one match tomorrow afternoon, and then goes on a two-a-day schedule through Sunday

VFW TO PLAY MANSFIELD

The VFW baseball team will travel to Mansfield Sunday June 21 to play the Mansfield T and K at Liberty park at 2 30 p m All players are asked to meet at Walters Service station at 12 p m from where they will leave. Bacon or Culver will pitch with Dillon receiving

MARIONITES FAVOR LOUIS TO WIN

By BILL MURPHY

Will Joe Louis make a successful defense of his championship crown in this his 26 title fight tonight against Joe Walcott?

Marionites, like the rest of the boxing fans throughout the nation, have differing opinions on this controversial subject but seem to favor the champ

Here are some of their opinions

Fire Chief Owen Sifritt Joe Louis He's never been licked on his return fight after having a close one

Mackan Picks Walcott

Captain E. C Mackan, City police "Walcott, of course. That's where I'd put mine If Louis doesn't win in the early rounds, Walcott will take em."

Jim Graner WMRN sportscaster I know but I'm keeping it to myself Seriously, I pick Walcott if it goes over six rounds"

Pat Lawler office employe at Huber Manufacturing Co "I think Joe Louis will win. I'd like to see a new champion but I hate to see Louis lose, he has been a true champion and has fought all comers"

Jimmy Ferguson, newsboy "Walcott will win within the first seven rounds"

Pete Howison, Harding High school football coach 'Joe Louis He always licks them in the second fight. Look what he did to Schmeling, Godoy, Pastor and Conn"

W Detzer Hazan, municipal court judge 'Louis probably will win but I don't know much about boxing"

Mrs. Clara Fowlon, cook at Bougher's restaurant "Like Walcott, but think Louis will win."

Walter Guthrie county commissioner "Louis will ko him in the sixth"

Promoters Split

Jimmy Williams and Al Van Fossen boxing promoters Williams, "Louis He always wins in a rematch" Van Fossen "Walcott. He's too fast for Louis" Howard Hodges, referee, "Louis before the seventh"

Nellis Tweddle waitress at the Nic-Nac restaurant "Hope Joe Louis does he's always been a clean-cut fighter"

These people seem to favor Louis about 11 to 4 and I'll make it 12 to 4 Louis carries too many bombs for Walcott

Big 9 Thinclads Beats Coast Team

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill June 25—Bill Porter, Northwestern's ace hurdler, led the Big Nine to a 93¼ to 39⅝ triumph over the Pacific Coast conference in a dual twilight track and field meet last night

The Big Nine scoring its third straight win in the eight meets of the classy dual series, won 12 firsts and tied for another in the 16 events.

The Northwestern star won the 120-yard high hurdlers in 13.9 to set a new meet record

The only other record to fall was in the 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay The Big Nine squad eclipsed the world mark with a 56.8 clocking

INDIANS WANT 2ND WIN ON VEECK NIGHT

Zoldak Throttles Yanks, 5-2, in 1st Tribe Start.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 25 — The Cleveland Indians will attempt to celebrate the second anniversary of President Bill Veeck's purchase of the club tonight with a second straight victory over the New York Yankees.

With a banner crowd of more than 60,000 fans expected for the "birthday party" Manager Lou Boudreau will send Don Black to the mound with orders to duplicate the fine hurling performance turned in by newcomer Sam Zoldak against the Yanks

Zoldak, who was known as "Sad Sam" before his Cleveland pitching debut uncorked some clever casting yesterday to throttle the second place New Yorkers with eight hits, 5-2, as the Indians increased their league lead to three and one-half games

The former St Louis Brown southpaw pitched his way out of jams in the first and third innings when he retired the Yankees with two runners aboard in each frame Zoldak tired in the late innings under a hot sun but held his three-run lead until Boudreau called upon Russ Christopher to pitch one ball for the final out

Larry Doby put the Tribe in front at the outset with a single and stolen base, scoring on Eddie Robinson's one-bagger to right The Indians took advantage of starter Frank Shea's wildness to plate two markers without a hit when Shea walked the bases loaded in the third

Jim Hegan's pass plus singles by Doby and Boudreau increased the Tribe's margin to 4-0 in the fourth and the last Cleveland tally came over in the seventh on Boudreau's double Dale Mitchell's infield single and a long fly

Boudreau, highly pleased with Zoldak's hurling declared "Sam will be a big help to our pitching staff. He is more than just a thrower'—he really pitches to the batter's weakness"

Bob Feller will hurl the series finale against New York tomorrow while Zoldak will be given another starting assignment in the weekend set with Washington

Pitching's the Answer Says Joe DiMaggio

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 25—Jolting Joe DiMaggio's big bat is booming again—but the Yankees' one-man batting show believes "pitching will be the answer" in a three-club race for the American league pennant.

The Yankee heir to Babe Ruth's slugging mantle overhauled Cleveland's Ken Keltner yesterday in the battle for the league home run title with a tremendous 480-foot clout into the upper deck of Cleveland stadium.

Joe's 15th circuit clout, winding up a one-man spree which lifted New York into second place, was his fifth homer in three days

He also rapped two singles to soar above the .300 mark, and moved within one tally of Ted Williams in the runs-batted-in department.

The league's 1947 most valuable player ignored his slugging feats, however when asked to predict the junior circuit pennant winner

"It will be a fight down to the wire among the Yankees, Cleveland and Boston—and not necessarily in that order" Joe said "I think pitching will be the answer, and the club that gets the best hurling down the stretch should win the pennant

MILLISOR PITCHES NEAR-PERFECT GAME

Walk in Third Puts Man on Base.

Smitty's Grill currently holds down second place in the NCO softball league with a record of 5-2 after "Fats" Millisor's second no-hitter of the season Monday here against Mt Vernon.

Fats missed a perfect game and the softball hall of fame by walking one man in the third inning of his 4-0 triumph. One man was down, and the next batter hit into a double play

Smitty's and German Rupp of Mansfield are now staging a terrific bit of argumentation on the merits of their ace hurlers—Millisor and Bobby Regula The Mansfield ace also pitched a no-hit shutout Monday as the Rupps won, 4-0 over Willard.

The decade is not simply a two-team affair not with Willard boasting of their own "whiz kid" Bobby Smith who has plenty of stuff on the over sized hurler.

Next league game for the locals will be played at Ashland night when they tangle with the Ironmen The six team league record will stand Mansfield, 6-0 Marion 5 2 Ashland 3 Willard 2-2 Mt Vernon 2 5 and Tiffin, 0-6

The Maids dropped their first contest in nine outings by a score of 4-0 to Columbus National Coil in Monday's twin bill

PORTSMOUTH HURLER STOPS MUNCIE, 8-3

By The Associated Press

A one pitcher—Bob Davis of Portsmouth—was able to get the route last night in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league.

Davis spaced seven hits in stopping Muncie's league-leaders, 8-3 at Portsmouth. The A's gave him a 6-0 lead in the first two innings, and he coasted the rest of the way. Dick Brown's three-run double was the game-winning blow.

The hurlers had the most trouble at Lima, where the Terriers and Newark's Yanks collected 36 hits between them. Newark won, 8-11. Every Newark batter hit safely at least once and scored at least once, and only two Lima players failed to duplicate that performance.

Springfield moved within half a game of Muncie by stopping last-place Richmond at Springfield, 8-2. Jim Herndon, Richmond relief pitcher walked in the tying and winning runs in the last of the ninth.

The line scores:

BABE ZAHARIAS MEETS JINX OPPONENT TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 23—Fivefoot Babe Didrikson Zaharias met a youthful jinx opponent in today's second round of the 10th Women's Western Open golf tourney.

Mrs. Zaharias, three-time open winner, took on tiny Mary McMillin of Green Bay, Wis., who in 1946 handed the Babe one of her most stinging setbacks in a phenomenal athletic career.

Miss McMillin, who looks more like a high school sophomore than a veteran golfer of 21 years, humbled the Babe, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals of the 1946 western amateur at Cleveland.

Marion Pace Is Hilliards Feature

The feature race at Hilliards Raceway tonight is the Marion Race, a two-section dash for three-year-olds.

The first dash, the fifth of the night's program, will be nine-sixteenths of a mile, and the second, the seventh race, will go a mile.

Stake for the feature event is $1,000, half on each dash. At the moment Champion Vole is the favorite.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting—Stan Musial, Cardinals—Musial cracked out five hits in five times at bat to lead the Cards to a 5-2 victory over the Boston Braves. His ninth inning single with the bases loaded snapped a 2-2 tie.

Pitching — Harry Brecheen, Cardinals — Scattered eight Boston hits to register his eighth victory, 5-2, and his seventh at night. He has lost two.

At Republican Convention

Roving Reports

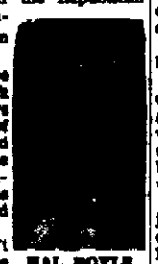

By Hal Boyle

PHILADELPHIA

A MAN could get only one ovation like that in a lifetime.

It was the kind of ovation the people give to a leader who has won and lost for them in the past, whom they have passed by for the new leader with the new prospect of victory.

There is a strange music in the loyalty of massed human voices. And it must have been nostalgic music indeed to Herbert Hoover last night as he stood on the platform and heard the Republican national convention explode in tribute to him.

It must have carried him back across the years on a bridge of turbulent sound to 1928 and the sweltering summer when he was first nominated in Kansas City.

But he didn't show it. As he HAL BOYLE walked to the speaker's stand he suddenly caught the convention's heart with his familiarity. This was the same Hoover of yore, back perhaps for his swan song at a party convention, for he is 73. The old high collar was gone, but the neat blue double-breasted suit and the simple tie were there. His hair was whiter and thinner, the cherubic face a bit wrinkled—but they were only the authentic stamps of his role as elder statesman.

TO THE REPUBLICAN delegates as he stood there waiting to speak he was a human symbol of their party unchanged in principle by either defeat or victory. He stood for winning and losing, but they let him know their pride in him.

The ovation began with the suddenness of a flash flood. It started on the convention floor and swept through the galleries in a crashing gust of sound.

It seemed to catch Hoover the only living former president, by surprise. As the entire convention leaped to its feet in a tempest of cheers and waving banners, he stood uncertainly, half-squinting his blue eyes in the glare of the bright hot lights.

The sound beat around him like crashes of tremendous surf. He glanced up at the galleries and waved his hand tentatively, like someone on a pier waving goodbye to a friend on shipboard he wasn't sure could see him.

In a twinkling the aisles were jammed with delegates and the convention band blared out "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

ALL THROUGH THE hall hundreds of voices picked up the words: "Glory, glory, hallelujah! The truth goes marching on!"

Then the parade of delegates, state banners tossing high, wound around the convention hall past the speaker's platform, giving every delegate a chance to wave up individually to the man who twice had led their party.

And they took it as a chance to give him an individual tribute.

There were young men and women who looked up at him with the awe youth gives to veterans of a war they never knew. And there were middle-aged and elderly people who looked up at him with the eyes of old remembrance.

The music, the waving banners, the long cheers — they stirred root loyalties. A number of women in the long line wept with emotion, and so did several men. Hoover stood silently, his left hand flexing nervously, his face now smiling, now sober.

AFTER 15 MINUTES the pounding gavel of the convention chairman, House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., ended the demonstration.

In grave, unemotional words Hoover then spoke. He said the country and the world faced critical problems which "far transcend partisan action." He told the delegates they are the trustees of the great cause of human liberty and warned:

"If you follow the counsel of those who believe that politics is only a game to be played for personal advantage you are wasting your effort.

"Make yourselves worthy of the victory."

Another wave of cheering washed through the high hall. Herbert Hoover stood there a moment, listening to the music of loyalty, and then he stepped back and was gone.

He gave no advice to the convention on the biggest problem remaining on its program — the choice of the party's leader for 1948.

Brewers Open Crucial Series with Indians

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Brewers, three games behind pace-setting Indianapolis in the ding-dong American Association baseball race, open a three-night stand in the Indiana capital tonight in a late June "crucial" series.

Indianapolis tuned up for the invasion of the Brewers last night by defeating Toledo, 9 to 4, in the only league game scheduled. It was Farmers night in Indianapolis and 10,830 fans saw the Indians hand the Mud Hens their fifth straight league defeat.

At Republican Convention

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

PHILADELPHIA

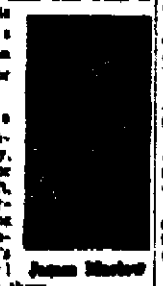

IF YOU could see this Republican convention from the inside, you'd understand how cold politics are.

There are two worlds here:

1. The roar of the crowd, the lights, the music, the singing, the rousing chorus of the convention itself.

2. The behind-the-scenes dickering.

Take a look at the candidates themselves, the men who want to be picked by this convention as the Republican nominee for President.

New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft, Minnesota's former Governor Harold E. Stassen, California's Governor Earl Warren, among them.

James Marlow

In the morning the 1,094 delegates flock out to the convention hall for the speeches.

But not one of the candidates shows up there. They stay back in their hotel rooms, with telephones near at hand, and their lieutenants working feverishly.

Their job is to try to win over the support of those delegates who are so busy on the convention floor.

The raw and naked desire for political power is wide open here.

BUT IS ISN'T HARD to understand the drama in this show if these things are taken into account:

1. The presidency of the United States is the highest honor this country has to offer.

2. The Republicans have a better chance of winning this election than at any time since Franklin D. Roosevelt won the Democratic nomination in 1932.

3. With a couple of possible exceptions, the top men here are at the climax of their public service careers.

Taft, at 58, may get another crack at the nomination but he's been skating around the edge of it for years. His whole life up to this point has been a build-up for the nomination.

Dewey has been in the public eye for a long time as a racket-buster and then as governor of New York although he's only 46.

He came close to the nomination in 1940, got it in 1944 but lost, and now once again is looking for it.

WARREN IS SERVING his second term as governor of California. He has given his state distinguished service.

But with him, as in the case of Dewey, there isn't much more he can do to win prestige. His life is at a climax here.

Stassen alone of all the candidates seems to be the one who can run again for nomination, if he loses out this time.

But where he goes from here—if he doesn't get the nomination—is anybody's guess.

Anyway, with each man's life at a peak here, it is no wonder that they are trying furiously to win the nomination.

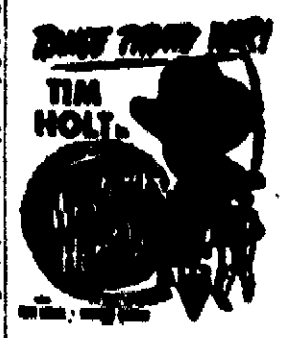

But this convention, the speeches and the business of the convention itself are only going through the motions because—

Every one here knows that the real business is being settled quietly behind the scenes.
